Chapter 1

At night time in the dark shadowy outskirts of a major city, there is a factory/testing facility where workers are working on a large machine filled with complex switches and buttons. It also has several red cylindrical components. A short old guy with white hair and a large round jaw dressed in a nice suit enters. Someone says, “The Prime Leader is here.” The Prime Leader looks at the machine and he said, “How is the progress coming along?” The lead worker said, “She’s nearly finished. We are calibrating her psionic brainwave capabilities and then we will be ready to ship it out to you.” The Prime Leader said, “I want to know more about this device. Is it ready to be powered on? Can it be tested on something?” The lead worker said, “It is ready to be powered on. We can test it.” The Prime Leader said, “Good.” The workers get ready to do a test of the weapon.

In one of the vents overseeing the entire scene, Ultraverse Captain Fusion (the Captain Fusion variant that commonly appears in Ivan’s War, and has a red triangle with a gold “F” on it) is in the vent with a slightly pudgy ten-year-old boy with a round head and nose and has brown hair. He wears a black t-shirt with the red “CF” logo on it. Ultraverse Captain Fusion said, “That’s the weapon I told you about. That thing could destroy every one of us in this civilization. We must thwart their plan. Take my lead.”

The weapon is about to be activated for a test and Ultraverse Fusion breaks the vent and he jumps with the boy into the testing center. He throws some small bombs that produce intense white flashes of light which blinds everyone at the facility. The boy smacks down and fights off the workers and Ultraverse Fusion removes a component from the weapon and he runs away with it with the kid at his side. Someone said, “What just happened?” The Prime Leader said, “You fools. We’ve just been infiltrated. I see the intruders. Stop them!” The Prime Leader sees Ultraverse Fusion running away with the kid.

Ultraverse Fusion and the kid almost escape from the testing facility and they are stopped by security forces. They consist of deadly spherical robots that fire out plasma nets at Ultraverse Fusion and the kid. Ultraverse Fusion jumps and kicks down one of the security spheres. More security forces show up and they go to battle with them. The kid destroys a number of them and he reaches his hands into a humanoid security bot and rips it into a mound of circuits. More spheres group up and they fire a swarm of nets at Ultraverse Fusion. All the nets come down on him and one of them traps Ultraverse Fusion. The kid runs to him and he said, “What do we do now?” Ultraverse Fusion reaches his arm through the net and he hands the component he stole to the kid. He said, “Take this.” The kid takes the component. Ultraverse Fusion presses some commands on his watch. He said, “Run to the Fusion Mobile. I set coordinates in it. You will go to another universe where there is another Fusion just like me. I want you to take the component with you and stay with him for the time being. It will be safe for all of us.” Ultraverse Fusion gets picked up in the net and carried off. Security forces start targeting the kid. Ultraverse Fusion said, “The Fusionverse is counting on you, Thurmin Fusion.” Thurmin runs out of the facility and he escapes the spheres and he runs out into the dark abyss outside. He jumps into the Fusion Mobile and a voice says, “Welcome, Thurmin.” The computer system lights up and it shows several lines of text and several commands. It goes into autopilot mode and a computer voice said, “We will be taking you to your destination.” The Fusion Mobile drives off. It locates a portal and it drives into it and it appears in a vortex of greens and blues and it ends up in a different universe.

Thurmin rides in the Fusion Mobile and it is during the day in San Francisco. He sees people going about their normal everyday activities. Thurmin says, “What is this place?” He sees signs saying it is in San Francisco. He said, “San Francisco? That sounds familiar. I think that’s where Captain Fusion is from. I think there was another Captain Fusion that also lived in San Francisco.” The Fusion Mobile gets stuck in traffic. A portal opens up and gold armored troops leave the portal. They walk down the highway and they look inside everyone’s car. Thurmin watches them and he sees they have a photo of him and they are showing it to people. Thurmin said, “They found me. They’re after me. Staying in this traffic jam is going to get me killed.” Thurmin unlocks the door and is about to rush out of the Fusion Mobile and he hears a tap on the window and he turns around and he sees the armored troops are there with their weapons aimed at him.

Thurmin runs away and they blast down the Fusion Mobile and they destroy it. Thurmin frantically runs down the streets of San Francisco. He blends in with crowds of people and the troops are still looking for him. Thurmin evades the troops long enough and they leave where he is and they start looking elsewhere. He breathes a sigh of relief and he wanders around San Francisco. He walks past the Golden Gate bridge and he walks through hilly streets and he ends up in a nice looking public park. Thurmin goes to his watch and he said, “It’s a good thing I have my Fusion Watch with me. Maybe this thing knows…” His watch shows where he is and it shows where his target is. Thurmin said, “It looks like the Fusion I’m looking for is here in this park.” He follows the signal and it leads him to a tree with a box on it. Thurmin said, “Now where is this Fusion?” He walks in circles and his watch points that it is located in the tree. Thurmin said, “He’s a tree?” He steps up to the tree and his watch points to the box on the tree. Thurmin said, “He lives in a box on the tree? How is that possible?” Thurmin observes the box and he waves his arms around it. Thurmin said, “Something must be wrong. There’s no way…” A scanner arm comes out of the box and it scans Thurmin. It reads his retinal properties and it approves of him and a shrink ray comes out of the box and shrinks him down to a small size. He is then carried in to the box.

Thurmin is in the box and is amazed by what he sees. He sees tubes with red liquids flowing through them. He sees several black and red high tech computer systems. Thurmin said, “This place looks like a technological paradise.” He walks up a set of stairs and it leads to a giant computer with a large screen showing tons of details. There is a chair in front of it and he sees someone is sitting in it. Thurmin said, “Excuse me sir…” The chair turns around and in it is the Captain Fusion from Jason and Mason and the past three movies. He looks at Thurmin and gives him a stern look and said, “Who are you? How did you get in this lair? This lair is heavily guarded and protected.” Thurmin said, “Some scanner scanned me and it let me in. I was ordered to come and find you.” Captain Fusion said, “Who ordered you to come and find me?” Thurmin said, “It was from a Fusion that looked just like you that also calls himself, Captain Fusion. He is just like you but he has a triangle on his suit with a gold, ‘F’ on it.” Captain Fusion raises an eyebrow and he said, “He sent you to come and find me?” Thurmin said, “Yes. We have a crisis on our hands and he told me I would be safer with you.” Captain Fusion said, “You must be pretty valuable if you alone would be sent into my protection.” Thurmin said, “It’s not just that. It’s also this.” He shows the cylindrical component from the weapon. Captain Fusion said, “What is that?” Thurmin said, “My Captain Fusion broke this off a weapon. The Prime Leader that runs my jurisdiction is corrupt and he is working towards building a weapon that uses brainwaves and psionics. I’m not sure what that means buy I’ve been told it is something pretty bad. The Prime Leader has his troops after me. They were here in San Francisco. They destroyed the Fusion Mobile that I used to get here.”

Captain Fusion examines the component and he said, “Well, this place is well secured. I have several dampening fields in this lair. This component will be safe here. I don’t know if the same could be said about you. I will still try to protect you at all costs.” Captain Fusion takes the component and puts it into a scanning device on the Fusion Computer. Captain Fusion said, “This component appears to be an energy source. It also contains strands of data. This data is written in a language not recognized by my software.” Thurmin said, “Is that why it is showing squares and Icelandic language-like looking writing?” Captain Fusion said, “Yes. This is typically what my computer shows when it doesn’t recognize something.”

The Fusion Lair begins to violently quake and the front of it is broken off and the troops that are after Thurmin enter the lair. They open fire on Captain Fusion and Thurmin. Captain Fusion grabs onto Thurmin and keeps him protected. He jumps and kicks some of the troops in the face and he jumps and smacks one into the floor. More troops enter and these ones are armed with blades. They cut up the tubes with red liquids flowing through them leaving a small flood of red liquid over the floor. One of them slashes around and he cuts the head off a gold statue of Arthur with a base that reads, “Arthur: Captain Fusion’s Loyal Butler and Underrated Hero 1908 – 1999.”

The attackers keep destroying the lair and the front of it is completely exposed to the outside world. Captain Fusion said, “Take my hand.” Thurmin grabs onto Captain Fusion’s arm. He runs and jumps out into the outside world and he uses a growth ray to grow him and Thurmin back to normal size. They run through the park while the troops continue to chase them.

They run past chessboard tables while that old bald guy that made cameos in all the past Captain Fusion movies is there with a bunch of kids and the kids are asking him questions about things. One kid asks, “If Gaplulactic is really a god, how did he get beaten by the Freaktastic Five?” The old bald guy said, “Well, my comics are written to be empowering to kids that read them to make them think they can overcome any evil villain, even if it is a magical god.” Captain Fusion and Thurmin run right past them while the evil troops start blasting at them. Captain Fusion fights off the evil troops and all the kids stare in awe and they start ignoring the old bald writer and they watch Captain Fusion go into battle. The old bald writer said, “Kids these days. They prefer real action and real heroes over the make-believe ones I write in my comics.”

Captain Fusion jumps and dodges the attacks from the troops and he smacks them down. Thurmin also fights and smacks down some of the troops. Thurmin looks at his watch. He said, “The portal that brought me into this universe is still active. Come with me.” Captain Fusion runs with Thurmin and they find the portal. Thurmin runs through it with Captain Fusion and they end up in a red, green, and blue vortex and they end up in the outskirts of the main city in the Fusionverse. Captain Fusion said, “Where is this place?” Thurmin said, “This is the Fusionverse.” Captain Fusion said, “Fusionverse? I heard you mention that place before. Is this some kind of universe?” Thurmin said, “It is a universe that is populated by a subgroup of humans called, Fusionites. We are all different people from different universes, but we have all be given a similar Fusion Augment Serum that made us stronger, more powerful, more smart, and more agile. I think you would blend in perfectly with the people of this universe.” Captain Fusion said, “What are the people of this universe like?”

They walk into the main central Fusionverse city and they see millions of Fusionites and they are all dressed in different costumes that are all different variants of the CF suit. They go about their day-to-day lives as they walk about the major city. The city also looks very futuristic with large screens placed on almost every block and there are flying hover ships as well as traditional cars. Robots travel around and they clean the streets and they work in some of the food vendors. Captain Fusion looks around the city in awe and he said, “This place looks very high-tech.” Thurmin said, “This is a civilization that is ruled by people like you. They are smarter than the normal people of the universes they came from. They brought their technology and science skills into this universe and helped shape it into what it is now.” Captain Fusion said, “This place looks like a futuristic utopia.” Thurmin said, “I wish that were the case but it isn’t.” Captain Fusion said, “What do you mean?” Thurmin said, “We have a government that is supposed to be democratic, but it is not. Most of what those TVs show pertains to it.” Thurmin points to a screen and it is showing live footage from the Fusionverse senate.

A news anchor is on the screen and he said, “Hello. I am Dallas Fusion for Fusionverse News. In today’s news, our Prime Leader, Dorton Fusion faces some fierce opposition from an opposing senate member, Alexa Fusion.” Footage on the screen cuts to live footage from within the senate and the Prime Leader is in his seat. He stands and reads from a paper, “Our Fusionverse government is getting better all the time. Thanks to the policies of my administration, we have made our cities safer and we have eliminated most crime. We have also carefully invested tax payers’ dollars into new factories to create new jobs and allow for us to manufacture new technologies that will continue to make the Fusionverse prosper and grow.” He takes his seat and Alexa Fusion stands from one of the other seats and she said, “You keep saying that your policies have made our cities, ‘safer’ but that does not seem to be the case. I receive letters from the people of my district all the time that say that crime is getting worse and healthcare is also dwindling. More and more of our fellow Fusionites are constantly left with nothing and are left out on the streets begging for money and committing crimes that Fusionites should never do or be driven into doing. How is that better?” Dorton said, “Well, some things are out of my control. I am sure someone or something else can sort that out.”

Captain Fusion and Thurmin are watching this on the large screen and Captain Fusion said, “Eh, that is not too far off from what politics is like in my universe.” Thurmin said, “I got to show you around.” Thurmin shows Captain Fusion the large mall of the Fusionverse. Thurmin said, “This is the Fusion Mall. It has everything. Pretty much any store you can think of is here and there are even secret labs here too.” They walk past different stores that are all Fusion themed and they sell things that are red and black. There are gold armored guards that patrol the mall with large chain guns. Cameras at the mall start homing in on Thurmin and Captain Fusion.

Thurmin takes Captain Fusion to an Asian Fusion restaurant. They are greeted by a large Asian chef that dresses in red and black and has a red “CF” logo on him. He said, “Ah, Thurmin. I’m glad you’ve chosen to come to my restaurant yet again. It looks like you’ve brought your grandfather with you too. Come and get seated.”

Captain Fusion and Thurmin look at menus and Captain Fusion said, “I want to know more about this universe? You have painted Dorton as possibly being the mastermind in this plot.” Thurmin said, “Well, let me put it this way. The Fusionverse runs on a broken electoral system known as, ‘First Past the Post.’ People don’t actually vote for who they want the Prime Leader to be. Instead they vote for a local senator candidate that belongs to a political party. Dorton somehow got most of the Fusionverse to strategically vote in his favor and he got to become the Prime Leader because most senators that won their districts came from the party he is the leader of which is called the Liberite party.” Captain Fusion gives Thurmin a stern look and he said, “You know an awful lot about politics for a kid your age. Heck, you know more about it than most of the people in my country. My country also runs on the broken First Past the Post system and most are too dumb to realize it. It is how unpopular candidates get elected. It really is an injustice. I have a rich history in tangling with elected fools that are supposed to represent their people but they really just stand for their own personal interests without giving a damn about what anyone actually cares about.” Thurmin said, “I think you’d feel at home in this universe then.”

Captain Fusion said, “Who are your parents and where are they?” Thurmin said, “My parents knew all about Dorton’s plot. They dug up some juicy evidence on him but before they could publicly post any of it, they were found and were imprisoned. It happened all right in front of me. That was three years ago and I never saw my parents again since. I was effectively made an orphan since this incident. My parents taught me a lot. They taught me more than what the school system could possibly teach me. That is why I am a lot smarter than most average citizens of this universe. After being an orphan for some time, I was adopted by a Captain Fusion that looks just like you. He had me live in his lab/lair and he would always show me the fundamentals of crime fighting and taking on difficult villains. We’ve been on countless adventures and our last one ended with him getting captured and giving me that component and being sent off to you. I guess I have no one again.” Captain Fusion said, “You do have someone. You have me. Based on the description you gave me of that other Captain Fusion, I think I know him. He is quite similar to me except for the fact he never had a saga of exile. Sagas of exile and living out on the streets and constantly being on the run all the time is what crafts great heroes. I will see if I can find out about what happened to your parents. My eternal custody is to rescue people and fight off corrupt and unjust politics and this is no exception. You said the other Captain Fusion had a lab or lair in this universe? Maybe you can show it to me.”

Chapter 3

Thurmin takes Captain Fusion to a dark and gloomy slum area at night where poor people sit in gutters with some being dead and some holding out cans wanting money. Captain Fusion said, “We’re in a high tech and futuristic universe and this is the best place to set up a base?” Thurmin said, “Well, Dorton has supposedly bugged most of the city and he has his high powered guards like the ones you saw at the mall patrolling the streets. Those guards don’t seem to come to these parts of the Fusionverse which gives us an advantage.” One of the bums looks at Fusion and Thurmin and he holds a can and aims it at them. The can has a camera system in it and it is recording Thurmin and Fusion. Thurmin finds the lair or lab and it is in a metal dome with a computerized lock with a small keyboard. Thurmin enters the code and they are granted access into the lair or lab. They enter and they find computers showing details of things going on in the Fusionverse. There is a TV there that is showing news coverage, and there are blueprints lying on the floor. Captain Fusion finds one of the blueprints and it shows schematics of Dorton’s weapon. Captain Fusion said, “This looks like the schematics for a weapon of some kind. What is this?” Thurmin said, “That’s the weapon that Dorton is supposedly building. Most of it is unknown. We were trying to investigate it. We know for sure it does exist.” Captain Fusion said, “This place is not far off from the lair I had in 1965. I guess we are not that different.”

The bum with the camera sends the video data to a computer that sits in Dorton’s office. Dorton is watching his computer screen and it shows the footage of Thurmin and Captain Fusion entering their lair. Dorton said, “What the? How is this possible? We captured that Captain Fusion. How is he back? Maybe he is an undocumented Fusion we don’t know about.” Dorton goes through computer files and he finds all the ones named Captain Fusion and using the detection program’s ultra advanced multiuniversal-self-differentiator, he only finds one that perfectly matches and looks like the one with Thurmin but it says he is captured. Dorton rubs his chin and said, “Did he escape or… Wait a sec.” Dorton accesses some software on his server and a 3D graphic with several universe marbles orbiting each other appears on his screen. It has text that reads, “Ultraverse Connection Initialized…” It shows more records. Dorton said, “Here we go. This database I was given access to has just about every documented citizen in the Ultraverse. There must be…” He finds screens filled with people named, Captain Fusion and he scans through each one. He finds the one that was captured, General Philip Williams from the Asterix Empire, and finally he finds the one from Jason and Mason. Dorton said, “So there is another Captain Fusion that looks just like the one we captured." It also shows a photo of what Captain Fusion looked like when he was much younger and had a crew cut of brown hair. It shows a montage of photos of him that were shot from 1962-1971. Dorton continues, "It looks like Thurmin found him. All we need to do now is apprehend Thurmin and this other Captain Fusion. No one is bringing my administration to an end any time soon. Voters couldn't do that and neither could they." One of Dorton's workers enters his office and he said, "Prime Leader, your master wants to speak with you now." Dorton said, "Ok. That's fine." Dorton gets up and he leaves his office and his door closes shut.

Dorton enters a hidden enclosure and he is placed in a black room with green veins flowing through it. There is a god with yellow skin, a round head with a black star painted on it and he dresses in a purple robe with an orange medallion that looks like a sun on it. He has sharp triangle eyes that make him look stern and mysterious. Dorton bows to the god and he said, "Master." The god said, "Dorton Fusion. There is a new threat to my operation. Some of our spies have given us footage of Thurmin and he seems to be partnered with another Captain Fusion." Dorton said, "Yes Master. I heard of this. I was just about to order our new high powered troops to bring them to us." The god said, "You don't know the full story. I have watched all the universes right from their very beginnings. I have watched this Captain Fusion and have given him special attention. He is not what you think he is. He is far more cunning than most of the people we've trapped in this universe. This Captain Fusion has gone against impossible odds and somehow managed to overcome them. It is as if some gods of the universes are on his side and always want him to win. He's the reason why our operation began in the first place. What concerns me even more is that he is partnered with Thurmin Fusion. Thurmin may be a young boy but don't let that fool you. Unlike most of the inhabitants of this universe, he was born in this universe to two Fusions. He is far smarter and stronger than your average Fusion. Simply capturing them with our traditional methods may not be enough." Dorton said, "I am aware of that. I will see if I can get our scientist to create something to counter them."

There is a vent on the ceiling of Dorton's office and a red gas starts flowing into the office. The vent breaks off and Alexa Fusion drops into the office. She goes to Dorton's computer and it is at the password screen. Alexa takes out a USB memory stick and she places it into the USB port on the computer and she turns off the computer and turns it on while pressing some of the keys. The computer boots into a different mode and it allows Alexa to access the contents of the computer. She finds schematics for weapons and she finds concrete evidence that Dorton takes all the money he gets from taxpayers and he invests it in making weapons for a seemingly great cause. Alexa keeps going through the files and she has them copied onto her memory stick. The files are copying at a rapid rate and she hears the door knob turn as the door is about to open. Alexa rips the USB stick out of the computer and she jumps on the desk and bounces back to the vent and she stretches her arm and grabs the vent cover and places it back. Dorton enters the office and while Alexa climbs back up the vent.

Chapter 4

Captain Fusion and Thurmin are in their lair or lab at night and Thurmin said, “You’re responsible for why a lot of the best video games exist?” Captain Fusion said, “I was, but that was a different time and place. I still actively counter evil to this day. Of course most of the time I fight evil these days, I don’t do it alone. I usually have assistance from Jason and Mason.” Thurmin said, “Who are Jason and Mason?” Captain Fusion said, “They’re some of the best and brightest twins the Ultraverses have to offer. They are quite heroic and they look up to me as a hero and I do the same for them. Jason and Mason don’t seem to be present in this universe so I have you instead.” Thurmin said, “Yeah.” Captain Fusion looks through some physical maps and documents and he finds a map of the Fusionverse. Captain Fusion said, “Is this a map of the Fusionverse?” Thurmin said, “Yeah. The other Fusion made this map based on our adventures.” Captain Fusion spots that there is a thick red line that is being drawn away from the main city and it ends at a large red dot out in the middle of nowhere. Captain Fusion said, “What’s this red spot?” Thurmin said, “That’s where my Captain Fusion believed the Fusion Elders live.” Captain Fusion said, “Fusion Elders?” Thurmin said, “They supposedly were the original governing bodies of the Fusionverse. They worked along side the Fusionverse’s original creator and their job was to preserve the creator’s vision of what the Fusionverse stands for. They were responsible for maintaining peace but that was ancient history. People lost faith in them and after several votes, these Elders decided that the Fusionverse should have an elected government and senate. They originally worked along side the Elders but the Elders were constantly proven to be less and less competent at running the Fusionverse and they started to become hated by the Fusionites. They went into exile and no one knows where they are now. My Captain Fusion thinks he found them at those coordinates. We may need to find them. These Elders are powerful and they may be unaware of what the Fusionverse has become. We may need their strength and wisdom to take down Dorton and...”

A rocket is fired into the side of the lab or lair and part of it is blown off and those gold armored troops run into the lab. They start attempting to gun down Fusion and Thurmin and they run and hide behind a couch that gets badly shot up. Captain Fusion finds some computer components and he throws them at the troops but it does nothing. Captain Fusion said, “It looks like we have no choice but to brute force our way out of here.”

Captain Fusion collects the maps and documents and runs and jumps on the head of one of the troops and he attempts to break it off but he is not strong enough. Captain Fusion said, “These troops are strong.” Thurmin jumps and smacks down one of the troops. He kicks one of them down and he uses rage and he breaks off one of the guns and he guns down the troops. Captain Fusion gives an odd look to Thurmin and he said, “Well, you got us out of here so I guess I owe you.”

Fusion and Thurmin run on the street where they are chased by a large gold robot mech that is constantly launching rocket missiles at them. Thurmin sticks to Captain Fusion’s side while he lures the missiles into some of the old rundown buildings leaving them destroyed as rubble. They run into a motor yard where there is a mechanic’s shop and there are remains of various different cars. Captain Fusion and Thurmin run and hide behind the cars and the cars get blasted. Captain Fusion and Thurmin are left surrounded by gold troops and the giant mech.

A swarm of missiles and plasma blasts destroy the troops and some missiles are sent into the giant mech and it collapses into itself and is left as a mound of debris. Captain Fusion and Thurmin are covering their faces thinking they are going to get killed and they realize they are saved. Thurmin said, “What just saved us?” Captain Fusion points and said, “I think it was that.” Captain Fusion and Thurmin see an RV that is black with the red “CF” logo on it and it is fully decked with a large arsenal of weapons. The RV drives and stops in front of Captain Fusion and Thurmin and the door opens up and they see a tall thin guy with a thin triangular short mustache, and a suit with a red “CF” on it and it has rounds of ammo around his shoulders and he has two large fists with large gauntlets that have red energy flowing through them. He also has red energy flowing through his body. He said, “Hop aboard.” Fusion and Thurmin enter the RV and it is fully loaded with a TV, a computer, fridges, navigation devices and all kinds of other controls. Thurmin said, “This place rules.” Captain Fusion said, “I’m guessing you’re another heroic Fusionite that knows about our cause.” The Fusionite driving said, “I guess you could say that. It is no secret that our government hates a lot of our people. I figured it would eventually get to a point where they would want to take arms against their own people. I’m Nuclear Fusion.” Thurmin said, “I’m Thurmin Fusion and this is Captain Fusion.” Nuclear Fusion said, “Where to?” Thurmin said, “Well, since our lair got destroyed, I think the only logical place left for us to go to would be to see the Fusion Elders.” Nuclear said, “Those useless people. They are essentially powerless but, I guess I have nowhere else to go to. Strap yourselves in. There are plenty of resting spots in this RV that I made myself. I used my nuclear capabilities to make this.”

Chapter 5

The senate is in session again where Dorton gets all the attention where he says, “Our new technology infrastructure plan will allow all the regions of the Fusionverse to have better internet connectivity and allow for more factories to get built to produce better technologies for all of us as always.” Alexa takes her place and she shows printouts of the documents she found on Dorton’s computer that contain the plans for the weapon he is secretly building. Alexa said, “These documents were given to me. They contain blueprints for some kind of weapon that is being built by Dorton.” Dorton said, “Well, you know we have to build weapons. How else are we going to maintain order and peace in this universe?” Alexa said, “This weapon appears to be manipulative of psionics and brainwaves. I also have financial documents for this project and they say that this entire operation is costing you billions of dollars. The only logical place where you could have obtained this kind of money from is the taxpayers.” Other senators are giving stern looks to Dorton. Dorton said, “Well, I always go over everything with my fellow senators from the Liberite Party as well as my loyal voters. They all voted for me and they support my ideas and the plans I have in mind for the Fusionverse.” Alexa said, “I don’t think they knew about this. This weapon looks like something that is quite heavy-duty and it appears to serve a specific purpose. What is this purpose and are your voters aware that you were building this?” Dorton sweats a bit and slightly loosens his collar and said, “Well, so much goes on and they can’t always follow every single thing that happens.”

Captain Fusion and Thurmin are riding in the back of the Fusion RV while Nuclear Fusion drives them through a different part of the Fusionverse city. They cross over a bridge with large tall white arches that have white diagonal supports. Thurmin has the TV remote and he channel surfs and they watch what is on TV. There is a kids show on where someone is dressed in a fluffy bunny costume and is wearing a low budget Captain Fusion costume. He said, “Remember kids, it is always nice to be kind to other people and to go against those that are bad to you. We should sing a song about this.” He grabs a guitar and other kids join him in playing a dumb sappy song. Thurmin said, “Yawn. This sucks.” He changes the channel and it shows a music video where a female pop rock star is dressed in a goth version of a Captain Fusion costume that is complete with skulls. She sings some song about a love interest of hers that stopped loving her. Thurmin said, “Lana Fusionana’s music videos are just as lame as her singing.” Captain Fusion said, “She’s someone famous?” Thurmin said, “Everyone in the Fusionverse knows her. She is some lame pop star whose father had some ties in the music industry. Dorton used her in his last campaign. She is nothing but a white knight for Dorton. She’s partially responsible for why Dorton won and why everyone loves him. Some fans worship her like she’s a god.” Captain Fusion said, “Yeah. Politicians in my universe use music stars and other famous celebrities for them to win votes. They tried using me for those purposes once and I fought back.” Thurmin changes the channel again and there is a monster movie on and some guy in some Fusion flight suit flies in a fighter jet and goes against a monster destroying the city. The channel is changed again and it shows Alexa Fusion going against Dorton. Alexa looks aggravated and she flails the papers and documents and said, “If your people knew about these plans, they wouldn’t have voted for you.” Dallas Fusion appears on the screen and he said, “Well, there you have it. Alexa Fusion claims that Dorton is constructing some new kind of weapon that has these designs.” The designs for Dorton’s weapon appear on the screen. Captain Fusion and Thurmin’s eyes go big. Thurmin said, “How did she get her hands on those plans?” Captain Fusion said, “I never expected the news to provide coverage of something useful.” Dallas said, “Dorton claims all his voters knew about this alleged weapon. Did they really know about it? I voted for this guy and I never heard of this weapon before now.” Nuclear Fusion is listening to the TV and he said, “Eh, a powerful weapon. What else will these bureaucratic fools who call themselves Liberites come up with next? No weapon they could come up with would ever be a match for me.”

Dorton goes into a backroom in the main capitol building and some of his close followers and senators gather around him. Dorton’s face looks demonic and pale and he said, “How the hell did Alexa get those plans? There is only one way she could have got them. She must have brainwashed one of you to take her side. Now the only real question is, which one of you was brainwashed? You are all under house arrest until I get an answer. In the meantime, I am taking the new national guard with me. I am paying that Alexa a jolly good old visit for stealing those classified documents.”

Alexa returns to her small house in the suburbs of the city and she opens her door and she sees the inside of her house has been trashed. She said, “What the…” She walks around and she said, “Who could have done this?” She walks up the stairs and she looks into her bedroom and she sees those gold armored troops and they are going through her stuff. They spot her and one of them said, “There she is. Nab her!” The troops run after her and she uppercuts one of them and she kicks the other one in the face. Alexa runs to her living room and she opens a secret door in the wall where there is a fireproof safe. Alexa said, “Good thing they didn’t find this.” Alexa grabs it and runs off. She runs to her car and she sees it has been gutted out to a point where it is nothing but a rusty metal frame. Alexa runs down a street away from her house.

Chapter 6

Nuclear Fusion navigates the Fusion RV through the crammed narrow streets of this part of the Fusionverse city. Nuclear Fusion said, “Eh, these streets are nothing but a parking lot. Good thing this GPS of mine can show me some shortcuts. It is showing me one right now.” The computer in the driver’s section of the Fusion RV displays a shortcut and he drives using that shortcut. Captain Fusion and Thurmin see they are heading into the suburbs and Captain Fusion said, “Do you know where we are going?” Nuclear Fusion said, “My GPS will lead us the way.” Captain Fusion said, “Has that thing ever failed you before?” Nuclear Fusion said, “No. That’s because I never used it before.” They drive into the suburbs and they see Alexa running across the street. Thurmin said, “Hey! That’s Alexa Fusion. I wonder why she is running away.” Captain Fusion said, “After that act she gave in the senate, it is not surprising that Dorton would send his goons after her.” They see a swarm of gold troops chasing after Alexa.

Nuclear Fusion speeds down the side street and he uses the rockets in his RV to blast down the gold armored troops. Alexa is zipping pretty fast down the road and Nuclear Fusion activates the Nuclear power on the RV and it makes it go faster and it catches up to Alexa. Alexa spots the RV and she slows down and the RV slows down too. Nuclear Fusion opens the main door and he said to her, “Come on in. We’ve got everything.”

Alexa enters the Fusion RV and she is seated in the back with Captain Fusion and Thurmin. Thurmin said, “Alexa Fusion. You are just the one we want to see. We know all about that weapon you found the schematics for. Dorton is planning something. One of my friends and adoptive father knew about it and they captured him. Who knows where he is now and what kinds of torture he may be facing.” Alexa said, “I always knew there was something wrong with Dorton. His plans he announced during his campaign made no sense. He promised so many things that he didn’t follow through with.” Captain Fusion said, “Them politicians never live up to their word.” Alexa said, “I am going to be the first that will live up to their word. Once the Fusionverse sees how bad the dark side of Dorton really is, they are going to wish they never voted for him.” Captain Fusion said, “We are on our way to go to where the Fusion Elders supposedly live. The other version of me had a map to them. Thurmin thinks they can help us.” Alexa said, “I haven’t heard about those people in a long time. I sometimes thought they were the kinds of myths parents tell their kids about for bed time stories.”

Alexa’s cellphone rings and she flips up the sleek black phone with red “CF” letters on it and answers. It is Alexa’s mother and she is in her house and she is watching Dorton and his people walk on the property and walking up the front walkway. Alexa’s mother said, “Alexa. The Prime Leader is coming to visit me right now. He has some of those shiny metal guards with him. Do you know anything about this?" Fear stabs through Alexa's body and she said, "My mom's in danger." Alexa goes back to her phone and she said, "Mom, whatever you do, do not answer the door. Do not listen to anything Dorton says. He is going to try and brainwash you to get stuff out of you. Resist him at all costs." Alexa said, "Someone is in danger. We must save them. I know where she lives. Follow my directions." Captain Fusion said, "Saving innocent civilians from danger is one of the fundamental principles of being a superhero. I guess that is what all of us are."

The Fusion RV speeds to Alexa's mother's house and they see Dorton and his men break down the door and they look for Alexa's mother. Alexa strikes at one of the gold troops and she said, "Hey. So you like picking on old ladies now, huh?" Dorton said, "Alexa. You are the one I really wanted. I figured you would come to assist your mother. She's the only lady that ever truly cared about you. We can take you on easy." Captain Fusion said, "We will see about that." Dorton sees that Captain Fusion is present with Thurmin and Nuclear Fusion. Dorton said, "Ah. I see you brought reinforcements. Take them out." Dorton sends his troops to take out the other Fusions. Captain Fusion and Thurmin fight them off and they struggle over how strong and mighty the gold troops are. Nuclear Fusion charges up nuclear blasts and he uses his gauntlets to fire waves of energy and it knocks over the troops. Nuclear Fusion leaves several of the troops incapacitated and stunned.

The Fusions overtake the gold troops and they start heading for Dorton. Dorton said, "You will never exploit me for anything." Dorton runs into a sleek white limo and speeds away. One of the gold troops gets up and he is about to attack the Fusions and Nuclear Fusion charges up one of his fists and he smacks the gold troop in the head and his outer casing on his head crumbles off and it reveals he is just a Fusionite underneath. The Fusions look at him and he rubs his eyes and he said, "Where am I? What happened?" Thurmin said, "This guy must have been brainwashed by Dorton." Captain Fusion said, "What is the last thing you remember?" The Fusionite said, "I remember being in my lab and it got raided by these gold troops. I think they were after some of the new technologies I invented. I am an inventor and Dorton did take interest in some of the things I made. He threw a childish hissy fit when I refused to give him anything I created." Captain Fusion said, "Dorton must have brainwashed this inventor into becoming one of his troops." Nuclear Fusion smashes the casings off the heads of the gold troops and it reveals they have Fusionites underneath them. Nuclear Fusion said, "All these troops are actually Fusionites just like us. I thought they were robots this whole time." Captain Fusion said, "I think that's what Dorton wants us to think. He's brainwashing the ones that tried to be heroes to take a stand against him. Well, this isn't going to work on us. We could take him on as a team. You saw him there. He is scared of us." Thurmin said, "Yeah. We could be some kind of Fusion League or a Fusion Family or something like that." The inventor that was just freed said, "I have a lab you can visit." He gets some paper and a pen and he writes down an address and a phone number on it and hands it to Captain Fusion. Captain Fusion said, "We will visit you if we need your technology. I bet these troops may have family and friends that miss them. I never would have seen something like this coming." Alexa and her mother come out and Alexa's mother said, "I am glad you heroes arrived when you did. I didn't know what I would have done if you didn't show up in time. Dorton would have overpowered me for sure. I'm not as good in my old age as I used to be." Alexa said, "Don't worry, mom. We will take down this Dorton. The whole Fusionverse will know how corrupt he is after we are through with him. We have more people to save."

Gold armored troops antagonize innocent Fusionites all over the Fusionverse and the new Fusion team that rides in the Fusion RV driven by Nuclear Fusion comes to rescue them. They also team up and they take down the gold troops and they undo Dorton's brainwashing on them and they become free. Dorton becomes aware of this and newspapers are printing articles revealing that the gold troops were actually Fusionverse citizens that were brainwashed. Even the news is providing coverage of it. Dallas Fusion is on a screen and he said, "As it turns out, these gold troops are just your average Joe Fusionite that may have been captured and brainwashed. If you ever see Bob down the street go missing, you may know what happened to him. We don't know who's responsible for this brainwashing or what the ultimate goal of this mastermind is but we do know this must be part of something far more insidious. Some people are speculating that Dorton is the one kidnapping people and brainwashing them so he will win the next election and continue to be the Prime Leader of the Fusionverse for the foreseeable future. I don't know where people get these ideas from but this does make a lot of sense." Dorton turns off the TV and he smacks it. Dorton said, "People are starting to find out about the true plot. No one ever did things like this before. It wasn't until that stupid kid brought that other Fusion into the Fusionverse is where this started. Now they are getting more and more Fusionites to take their side against me. My gold troops just aren't enough for this."

A mad scientist that looks like an evil and demonic version of Captain Fusion enters Dorton's office. The mad scientist said, "I watched the news and read all the papers and I think I may have something that could solve your problem." Dorton said, "What is it?" The mad scientist said, "Come with me. I have it in my hidden lab in the mall."

Dorton is brought to a dark and gloomy looking lab where there is a giant diagonal table with metal straps on it. It also has machines with vast quantities of different colored liquids flowing around it. The mad scientist said, "Let me show you my latest invention." He brings in a short and pudgy guy that looks dumb and he has a tooth that sticks out. He just says, "Duh… dumb bu duh lal duh." The mad scientist said, "This guy is just some guy that would be thrown under the bus by any normal person. He is only capable of saying those few words coming out of his mouth and they don't serve any real purpose. He is not capable of really doing anything significant that would make him stand out. Thanks to my new and improved genetic augment serum, we can make this dumb guy smart and strong and far more powerful that those Fusions combined." Dorton said, "How did you make this?" The mad scientist said, "We know that Captain Fusion got his powers from an augment serum that mutated his genetics and allowed him to become what he is. It's a Fusion of different scientific substances that were merged together to create a powerful serum to grant him a more powerful character. I did that right here only I took it several notches further." Several Fusion Serum injectors are brought to the dumb guy and this rainbow of liquids are sent flowing into his bloodstream and his muscles suddenly grow and his body muscles begin to bulge out of his body. He gets up and he picks up the table and he snaps it in two with his knee and he grabs onto other machines and equipment lying around the lab and he throws them around. The mad scientist claps and said, "Bravo. Wonderful. Isn't it perfect?" Dorton said, "This thing looks strong. Can he actually outsmart the Fusions?" The mad scientist said, "Of course he can. He is also very obedient. I changed the formula slightly so it would make him more obedient to you." Dorton said, "If this guy can crack open the skulls of the Fusions, you will earn a spot in the limelight of honored citizens of the Fusionverse."

Chapter 7

Nuclear Fusion is driving the Fusion RV at night while Alexa sits in the seat next to him and Captain Fusion and Thurmin are sitting in the back of the RV. Thurmin is sleeping and gets painful flashback visions of his parents getting taken from him by Dorton. He also gets visions of him being kicked around by Dorton's forces. Thurmin wakes up and he rubs his eyes and he sees he is in the Fusion RV.

Alexa said, "I never got to ask, how did you become a Fusionite?" Nuclear Fusion said, "I was just some some guy no one cared about that lived in the outskirts of a major city. I would always tinker with car parts. I even built weapons and body armor with them. I never found any real job in my city. All the great jobs would be given to the people they call, 'The Elite.' The only real job I could get was to be a test subject for a local mad scientist the city employed. I got to test this mad scientist's genetic augment serum that made me more agile and much stronger. I also lived nearby a power plant that was being used to create mutated freaks and was used to dump nuclear waste into the nearby lakes. The local government running my city was always proud of the power plant and they would never acknowledge the serious job crisis going on in the city. I knew there was nothing more for me so I took matters into my own hands and I went to sabotage the power plant. I put up a fight with them and I got exposed to vast amounts of nuclear waste. Due to the augment serum in my bloodstream, I survived the radiation that would have killed any normal person and I successfully destroyed the power plant. I knew more agents and evil troops would come for me so I used the car parts I had in the car scrap yard I lived at and I built myself this suit I wear and these weapons. The government of my city also experimented with technologies that would open new portals to different universes. I thought the idea was ridiculous but in another one of my battles against my city's government, I fell into one of those portals and I ended up in this Fusionverse. That was some years ago and I lived here ever since." Alexa said, "Your universe doesn't sound far off from the Fusionverse." Nuclear Fusion said, "That's the one thing I noticed ever since I lived in this universe. It almost seems like a carbon copy of the place I was from. Especially in the district where I live. The people of my district are fools and they always vote for the Liberites." Alexa said, "People that vote Liberite exist all over the Fusionverse and I have constantly tried to teach them that they are in the wrong. They don't fully know what Dorton's true intentions are. Heck. Most of his own fellow Liberite senators don't even know what his true intentions are. I'd like to give you a job in my Bureaucrat political party. I think you would be perfect for working in our government to make sure the Fusionverse never becomes like your universe."

Nuclear Fusion said, "Yeah. That sounds good. This universe is also bugged with criminals that try to take advantage of lower class people. Most of them use manipulative scammer tactics to try to get you to buy in to their services." Alexa said, "The tragedy is that a lot of people fall for these scammers because of Dorton's administration. Dorton's administration thinks education is a joke. He wants average citizens of the Fusionverse to be dumb so they will continue to vote for him and they will never question anything he does." Nuclear Fusion said, "Yeah. A lot of people in my universe are pretty dumb too. I know scams are common in this universe because I fell for one of them once." Alexa said, "You fell for a scam?" Nuclear Fusion said, "I was going broke and the Fusionverse bank was threatening to foreclose on my automotive business I started. I met some guy nearby me that claims he could resolve my problems for a fee. He did do some things to keep the bank off me for some time so I trusted him. He then turned on me and so did the bank. He says I owe him thousands of dollars which I don't. I knew I would be on the run from him one of these days and that is part of why I built this RV." Alexa said, "That sounds harsh. If more people in the Fusionverse knew about your story, they would become sympathetic towards you and it may inspire more fellow Fusionites to turn against Dorton."

Nuclear Fusion said, "Son of a…" Alexa said, "What is it?" Nuclear Fusion looks in his rear view mirror and he sees the scammer that scammed him speeding up in a mega limo that is covered with weapons. The weapons begin to open fire on the Fusion RV. Nuclear Fusion said, "He found me." Some blasts are fired at the RV and Captain Fusion and Thurmin wake up. Thurmin said, "What's happening?" Nuclear Fusion said, "A scammer is attacking us." The Fusion RV zips through the dark eerie streets attempting to evade the scammer but the scammer drives right behind the RV. The scammer activates a tractor beam that locks onto the RV and Nuclear Fusion speeds up in an attempt to break free of the tractor beam but it doesn't work. Alexa said, "Can you break away from this guy?" Nuclear Fusion said, "He has a tight lock on us." The scammer brings the Fusion RV into an underground garage that is connected to a traditional Chinese looking palace. The scammer comes out of the car and he is dressed in a flashy purple and silver sci-fi looking design and he has purple stars that orbit his bald scalp. His thugs come out too and they are armed with deadly assault rifles. The scammer said, "Nuclear Fusion. If you come out now, we can end this the easy way. You don't want us to bust up your friends too, don't you?" The front door of the Fusion RV opens and Nuclear Fusion leaves the RV with his hands up. Thugs come out and they place large spheres over Nuclear Fusion's fists and they bring him in the main office of the scammer.

The scammer sits in his office while Nuclear Fusion is seated and the thugs aim their weapons at him. The scammer said, "Nuclear Fusion. You didn't think building a suped up RV would be the thing to get you out of the debt you owe me?" Nuclear Fusion said, "I owe nothing to you. If anything, you owe me for all that money you stole from me." The scammer said, "Now, now. I kept the bank off your tail for some time. After you stopped paying me, I still kept the bank off your tail but I can only go so long without making money. We are much alike. Our main goals in life are to make money. At the same time, something tells me you don't have those thousands of dollars you owe me for my services that were performed." Nuclear Fusion said, "You are scum. Scum like you deserve to be vaporized." The scammer said, "Ha. That's rich. I've had people tell me that all the time. You know what I do with customers that cannot pay me anymore? I make them work for me. You seem quite powerful and formidable. I think you would make a perfect addition to my work force. I could use you to help me beat down those thousands of other deadbeats that owe me money." Nuclear Fusion said, "You would have to kill me before I would agree to do anything for you." The scammer said, "I don't think that will be a concern." The scammer reaches into his desk and he has one of the mind control devices from one of Dorton's troops.

Thurmin is pacing in the RV while Alexa and Captain Fusion are seated and they speak of ideas. Thurmin said, "Nuclear Fusion is our friend. He got us out of that jam we had earlier. The least we can do for him is break him out of this scam land." Alexa said, “Scammers can be just as vile and as highly advanced as Dorton. Dorton supposedly supplies scammers with the equipment to carry out their fraudulent activities.” Captain Fusion said, “Thurmin’s right. We can’t let Nuclear Fusion go out like this. I speak from my experience. I know that if there is any kind of villain that presents a threat to you or your allies, the only way to get them off your back is to combat them. We are a pretty strong group. I know Thurmin has great potential and so does Nuclear. Let’s bust him out.”

The scammer places the mind control device on Nuclear Fusion’s head and he secures it tightly. He goes to his control panel and he begins controlling Nuclear Fusion. The door to his office bursts open and the three Fusions barge in. Captain Fusion said, “Let Nuclear Fusion go.” Thurmin said, “You mess with one of us, you mess with all of us.” The thugs open fire on the Fusions and Captain Fusion smacks them out. The scammer makes Nuclear Fusion grab onto Thurmin’s head and he lifts him up. Thurmin breaks out of Nuclear’s grip and he jumps and tries to pry the mind control device off his head. Thurmin tries hard and his small almost non-existent muscles begin to bulge. Nuclear smacks Thurmin off him and he begins to fire his Nuclear blasts at the Fusions. The Fusions dodge and the scammer said, “He’s not your friend anymore.” Thurmin said, “No one can take any of our friends from us.” Thurmin jumps on the scammer and he starts pounding the scammer in the head. He goes at the scammer and he smacks him hard and there is blood on his lower face. Captain Fusion said, “I think that’s enough, Thurmin.” Captain Fusion finds the key for the mind control device and he uses it to remove it from Nuclear’s head. Captain Fusion said, “It looks like our friend is saved.” Alexa observes the mind control device and the technology that comes with it. She takes out a small camera and she takes photos of everything. Nuclear said, “I know this place. I also know that this scammer is hiding something here. Come with me.”

The Fusions follow Nuclear Fusion through the ancient looking shiny purple halls that are decked with traditional Chinese architecture and sculptures. Some thugs run for them and Nuclear uses his blasts and he blasts them down. They find a large intricate looking door and Nuclear grabs onto it and tries to break it off. Thurmin said, “Let me help.” The two of them grab on the edges of the door and the break it off revealing legions of workers that have those mind control devices on their heads and they sit at computers where they have phones and they call people and they dupe people into giving them their information so they can use the computers to access their personal bank accounts and suck their life savings from them. Captain Fusion said, “This looks like a scam center.” Alexa said, “Senators in my affiliation constantly accuse Dorton of allowing these places to exist and he shrugs them off like anything else.” Alexa takes photos of the center. Captain Fusion has the key and he said, “I think this key will work on them too.” Captain Fusion goes into the scam center and he unlocks the mind control devices off the scammers one by one. More thugs pile in. One of them yells, “There they are! Get them!” The other three Fusions combat the thugs while Captain Fusion frees the scammers from mind control.

Captain Fusion dodges blasts and some of the thugs make it to him. He pounds down one of them and Thurmin jumps and pummels down another thug. Several of the computers get destroyed in the action as Alexa jumps and kicks down some thugs and Nuclear Fusion launches more blasts at them. Thurmin grabs one of the thugs and he throws him into a hidden door and it breaks revealing a server computer. Thurmin said, “Look at this.” Captain Fusion said, “That looks like a server computer. It could be the server computer that stores all the data on the victims. It is best that it is not destroyed. That way we can find out who each victim was and give them back what was stolen.”

All of the scammers are freed and they run through the halls and they overtake the thugs. The Fusions find their way back to the garage where the Fusion RV is parked. They jump in and Nuclear Fusion blasts their way out of the garage and back onto the street.

Chapter 8

Dallas Fusion appears on a TV screen and he said, “We have a breaking news update. It seems a business center in the business district of the Fusionverse City has been attacked by those Fusion terrorists we have been providing you all with constant coverage of.” An image appears in a square in one corner of the screen showing the four Fusions Dorton is after. Dallas continues, “We have no idea what the main purpose of this business center was but we have sent some of our reporters there to report to us. We have live footage from one of them now.” The screen cuts to footage of a news reporter going through the files in the scammer’s filing system. The reporter said, “It appears as if there are hundreds of thousands of records here from various residents of the Fusionverse. We also appear to have found what appears to be mind control technology that matches the same kind found in those troops that were employed by the Prime Leader Dorton. Does he have anything to do with this?” The screen cuts again to other reporters going through the computer records. One of the reports said, “We have found large digital database records here showcasing all the victims again. It looks like computer software was used to hijack peoples’ bank accounts to take money from them and deposit them into a shady looking bank account. It doesn’t appear to be from any recognized bank in the Fusionverse.” The screen cuts back to Dallas and he said, “There you go. It looks like this business may have been running a scam. Maybe these Fusionites that we think are terrorists were actually doing something heroic for the people of the Fusionverse. In other news, some polls came out and Dorton’s approval rating appears to have significantly declined. It may have something to do with the new information that was recently released from detailing that those gold troops that have been spotted in the Fusionverse City have been average Fusionites that were captured by Dorton and mind control was used on them. That sounds quite disturbing. I hope the same thing doesn’t happen to me.”

Dorton turns off a TV showing Fusionverse news and he is at a round table with his close followers and that new genetically augmented strongman is there as well as Lana Fusionana. Dorton said, “Too many secrets are getting revealed. My approval rating keeps slipping. The Fusionverse was a nice place before that old Fusion entered. We need to launch a new campaign.” One of his men said, “But the next Election is not due for several more months.” Dorton said, “Precisely. That still gives us plenty of time to launch the greatest campaign ever launched. It will be monumental and colossal compared to the ones carried out in other universes. I need dirt to find to rub on them.” One of Dorton’s men enters and he has some papers. He said, “Prime Leader. I found some stills from security footage from that business the Fusions vandalized.” Dorton grabs the papers that contain photos showing the Fusions in heroic battle. Dorton skims through them and he finds photos of the Fusion RV. The guy that brought in the photos said, “That’s the Fusion RV. It seems to be their greatest weapon right now.” Dorton said, “I know where this is going. We shall catch this RV and reverse engineer it. This may be perfect for my campaign.” The guy that brought in the photos said, “It would be a perfect weapon to use to combat all the Fusionites causing riots in our streets." Dorton said, "There are protests going on?" Dorton's TV is turned on and it is showing footage of people protesting in various parts of the Fusionverse City. Dorton said, "We will teach these people that the information found about my administration is wrong. Lana, it has been some months since you last had a music video and a new song. I will get one of my song writers to write another hit single for you. I will also get the best director from the Fusionverse film industry to craft a music video for you." Lana said, "How much will you pay me for this one? You underpaid me last time and it didn't cover the costs of me getting my nails repaired after I broke them during filming." Dorton said, "I will give you a few million dollars more than what you got last time. Sound fair?" Lana said, "I guess."

Dorton goes to meet his gold skinned master with a black star painted on his face in that secret chamber this magical god lives at. Dorton said, "The citizens of the Fusionverse may be on to us. They are starting to protest. Some of them have infiltrated where we keep our secrets." His master said, "Pretty soon this is not going to matter. You have been looking for that component the other Captain Fusion stole from our machine and gave to the kid, right?" Dorton said, "We've been trying to apprehend those Fusions. I was even given a new weapon which is a genetically augmented strongman to fight them. They just haven't had any encounters yet." The master said, "They will fall into our trap. It is only a matter of time before they realize they are deadlocked in a corner they can never escape from."

Chapter 9

The Fusion RV zips off away from the city and it drives into a bright sunny abyss where the ground sparkles. The Fusion RV is set in the same direction for hours on end. Nuclear Fusion said, "Are you sure we are going in the right direction? My GPS is not giving me any readings." Thurmin looks at a map and he said, "If my Fusion was right, we are going in the right direction. It does say it is a long drive. I also don't think your GPS would know anything about where we're going." Nuclear Fusion sees into the hazy light and he sees a crystal palace building begins to materialize in the far distance. He said, "I think I see something. Is that it?" Thurmin looks at the building and he glances at his map and he said, "That looks like it." Nuclear Fusion drives to the front of the palace and he finds a hidden entrance that is a tube with a road for cars. He drives into the tube and they end up in pitch black darkness and the only light that can be seen is coming off the screens of the computer in the interior of the Fusion RV. Nuclear Fusion turns on the front headlights and they don't reveal anything. Alexa said, "How do we know were are going to the right place? What if this is some trap and we're going to crash?" Nuclear said, "That's why I installed this." He flicks a switch and it enables an infrared scanner and an infrared antenna with a dish on it comes out from underneath the RV and it scans the tunnel and it reveals a path in which to drive. Nuclear Fusion drives through the path and they end up in a large dark area but with tons of light that is reflected from the abundance of crystals. Thurmin looks at it and he said, "This place is shiny and there are crystals everywhere. This looks just like how the Elders' palace was described."

Nuclear Fusion follows the track that is now made out of shiny crystal and he slowly guides the Fusion RV and they stop at a large crystal throne room where these very large and godly looking Captain Fusion's sit in crystal chairs and they have robes with different variants of the ‘CF” logos on them. Nuclear said, “Is this where we’re supposed to be?” Thurmin said, “I think it is.” They get out of the RV and Thurmin said, “Hello, Fusion Elders. I am Thurmin and these are my friends.” One of the Elders said, “You have found the fortress of the Fusion Elders. No outsiders have set foot on this place. Explain yourselves.” Thurmin said, “Well, we are from the main Fusionverse city and it is under attack from an evil plot from an evil vile Prime Leader.” One of the Elders said, “That’s what a lot of kids say.” Captain Fusion said, “He’s telling the truth. We all were there and we experienced first hand that the Fusionverse has indeed become a universe of despair. The Prime Leader, Dorton Fusion is using his political powers to steal from the regular average Joes of the Fusionverse and he is using the funds to construct a new weapon.” One of the Elders said, “Do you know for sure he is doing what you say he is doing?” Alexa said, “I found several documents that confirm this. I have them in a special safe in our RV.” Thurmin reaches in one of the pockets on his shorts and he pulls out the component the other Captain Fusion broke off the weapon. Thurmin said, “We also have this piece of evidence.” One of the Elders picks up the component and looks at it. He said, “It appears to be an energy source of some kind and it has data in it.” Thurmin said, “We know that. It is written in a strange language. Do you know how to read it?” The Elder said, “We would have to view it on our computer.”

The Elders bring the Fusions to a technology section of their palace and they place the component into a scanner on the computer and they view the contents. They decipher the bizarre language used to write the data on the component. One of the Elders said, “My god.” Thurmin said, “What is it?’ The Elder said, “This component is indeed part of a weapon. It is a weapon that will have several devastating and detrimental effects on the Fusionverse. You said Dorton was the one building this?” Thurmin said, “I saw it with my own eyes. What is the purpose of this weapon? How does it work?” The Elder said, “That, we are unable to determine since there is not enough data here to reveal the entire thing.”

Captain Fusion said, “We think it would be best if you would return to the main Fusionverse city and show everyone the way and put Dorton out of office.” One of the Elders said, “We would not do that. We are not what you think.” The Fusions raise their eyebrows. The Elder continues, “People think we are all powerful as gods but we really aren’t. Some people mistakenly credit us as being the creators of the Fusionverse but we are not. An unknown god created the Fusionverse and created us and we were merely the ones that were sent to govern the Fusionverse.” Captain Fusion said, “Who is this ‘god’ that created the Fusionverse?” One of the Elders said, “We don’t really know. No one knows what this god really looks like or what he really is. Some of us have made several concept drawings of what we think he looks like.” One of the Elders pulls out a dusty old book and they show them drawings of bearded old robed figures, large buff action heroes and one of them has a round head with yellow skin with a black star painted on his face. Thurmin’s eyes go big and he said, “That star faced god looks like something from a nightmare.” The Elder said, “Oh, believe me. He does seem like something all of us see in our nightmares. That’s why we keep this book closed and never look at it.” Another Elder said, “We understand that Dorton would be after you. This location is very secretive and it is not likely that Dorton would ever find us. You will all be safe here. We have plenty of living quarters for all of you to stay.”

Thurmin and Captain Fusion go into one of the living sections and it is a shiny purple and blue crystal room. Fusion said, “Were the Elders anything like you imagined them as?” Thurmin said, “I did envision them as being godly and mysterious. At the same time, I thought they would be overly knowledgeable about the creation of the Fusionverse and they would know the secret to beating Dorton. These Elders seem useless. Sorry that I brought you all the way on this overly long road trip." Captain Fusion said, "Well, it did result in us making some more allies and now we do know more about Dorton. Maybe we can somehow get these Elders on TV and they can help expose the truth about that component. They seemed to know some things about it. I guess all of us Fusions are techy and always live in strange and mysterious lairs that are filled with high-tech computers and stuff."

Alexa and Nuclear are in another living space and Nuclear said, "There's something I don't trust about this place. They seemed overly inviting of us and yet, they also made it somewhat of a challenge for our RV to enter." Alexa said, "Well, these Elders don't have any real contact with the outside world and they are clearly not accustomed to visitors. These Elders have been around since the beginning of this universe. It has been said they know what is best for the Fusionverse or so they would think." Nuclear said, "If they knew what was best for the Fusionverse, then why did they give up their powers so corrupt fools like Dorton could rule?" Alexa said, "Well, these Elders don't have the ability to predict the future. No one could have predicted Dorton and what has become of the Fusionverse. They can't just take it back now either. All things have their weaknesses. I have been trying to expose Dorton's for years. I think you would make a perfect senator and later, Prime Leader. An ideal Prime Leader would understand the people of the Fusionverse and you seem to have a good idea on who the best citizens of the Fusionverse are." Nuclear said, "I guess you could be right. I was never one for politics. I always viewed myself as an anti-politician. I always was a rogue. It is what my universe wanted me to be." Alexa said, "Well, rogues often are the best heroes. They are the reason America exists in the universes a lot of these Fusions came from. They are why we have a lot of the technologies and creative works we have. That RV of yours is pretty impressive. I think you're gifts might be what the Fusionverse needs to take down Dorton." Nuclear said, "I wish I could teach Dorton a lesson with my weapons. I also wish I could find the mad scientist that was responsible for the inhumane tests I had to do for money."

Chapter 10

It is the middle of the night and several armored tanks break down the walls of the crystal palace of the Elders. The ceiling rains debris of dust from the broken up crystal shards. The Fusions dart out of their beds and they meet up outside their living quarters. Thurmin said, "I think they found us." Several gold armored troops show up and the strongman is in the center of them. The strongman points to the Fusions and said, "There's Dorton's targets." The troops open fire on the Fusions. The Fusions run for the main throne while they dodge dust and debris. They find the Fusion Elders and Thurmin said, "This place is under attack from Dorton's thugs." Nuclear said, "You're supposed to be all powerful. Defend us." One of the Elders said, "We were never really fighters. We are simply emissaries from the god that created this universe. Captain Fusion said, "Pretty much all Fusions have extra strength and powers. Surely you have the abilities to help fight off this attack." One of the Elders said, "If Dorton wants us dead. We will let him have us dead." The strongman breaks into the throne. The gold troops open fire and the Fusions attempt to run to their parked RV. The strongman jumps from behind it and he is about to give the Fusions a pounding. Nuclear tries firing nuclear blasts at the strongman and his body just absorbs them. He creeps up to Nuclear and he grabs him and flips him over and smacks him back into the floor and a crack forms. The strongman engages on the other Fusions. Captain Fusion attempts to fight the strongman and he is grabbed and thrown into one of the throne seats leaving a crack in it. Alexa and Thurmin attempt the fight the strong man. Alexa attempts to engage him and he gets a strong grip on her. Nuclear gets up and he charges a strong powerful blast. It causes the crystal structure to collapse. More crystal rocks rain from the ceiling. Alexa tries grabbing something in her belt and he cellphone comes out and it slides somewhat close to where Captain Fusion is. Captain Fusion is about to go and help his allies when more rocks rain from the sky and it forms a thick barricade which blocks him off from the rest of the Fusions. More gold troops arrive and they capture three of the four Fusions and they also collect the Fusion RV. The strongman gets to his communicator on his wrist and Dorton is on the screen. The strongman said, "Master Dorton. I have three of the four Fusions. I also have the RV. Dorton said, "Good. Bring what you have to me. I would love to have one on one time with each of them."

Captain Fusion gets up and the fortress is all destroyed and the Elders have been crushed. He has no known way to escape. Captain Fusion finds Alexa's Fusion Cellphone and he opens it and it is turned on showing her home screen and the functions on it. There is also a message on it that says, "No signal." Captain Fusion explores the remains and he uses his strength to break a small hole in one of the walls. He uses more of his strength and he ends up digging through the wall and he is left outside where it is bright and sunny in a desert in the middle of nowhere. Captain Fusion sees that the cellphone now has reception. He also takes off one of his shoes from his costume and he finds a piece of paper in it that has the phone number for that inventor they rescued earlier. Captain Fusion calls the number on it and he said, "Hello, this is Captain Fusion. We rescued you a few days ago. I am stranded far away from civilization." The inventor said, "Just stay put. I can track where you are calling from. I will be picking you up."

Captain Fusion waits out in the hot dusty and sandy dunes and a black and red flying saucer hovers over him and it has a gold "CF" logo on it in a triangle with a black background and rounded edges and with a thick dark red border. The C is also elevated and the bottom round edge connects to the top of the F. The saucer lands and a set of stairs is released. Captain Fusion walks up the stairs and he gets into the saucer. Captain Fusion said, "A Fusion Flying Saucer?" The inventor is flying it and he said, "This is the Fusion Saucer. There is never a shortage of Fusion related things in this universe now, is there?" Captain Fusion said, "I guess not." The inventor said, "We weren't introduced earlier. I am Stride Fusion. I am one of the brightest inventors in the Fusionverse. I have won countless awards for it. I will show you my award collection when we get back to my secret lab. This saucer really is something impressive. It can get from one part of the Fusionverse to another in the blink of an eye." They are already at the lab. Stride lets Captain Fusion into his lab. It is a generic looking lab with black and red chemicals everywhere. Captain Fusion said, "I've seen countless labs like this." Stride said, "This is the dummy lab I set up to fool Dorton and other people that come to visit. You are a guest of honor so you will get to check out the real lab."

Stride takes Captain Fusion into a secret passage that leads deep underground. There are tons of unique inventions that are all Fusion based. These new inventions have the new "CF" logo on them. Captain Fusion said, "Nice take on the Fusion logo." Stride said, "This is my unique variant. I have all kinds of specialty inventions hidden down here and they all sport this new logo. It is on the main feature presentation I have down here." Stride grabs a remote and presses a button on it and it reveals a new Fusion suit. It is shiny and sleek and is back with that new logo on the chest and is complete with dark red gloves, dark red boots, and a red belt with the new "CF" logo on it. Captain Fusion said, "This suit looks nice." Stride said, "I made more of them but I made this one with your physical design in mind?" Captain Fusion said, "You had me in mind when you made this?" Stride said, "Oh yeah. I recognized you when I saw you rescue me. I remember hearing Dorton say things about you when I was locked up. Something tells me you are the Fusion that is most likely to beat Dorton." Captain Fusion said, "Maybe that's why Dorton seems to have a special interest in me and my new allies."

Dorton is in a garage in a secret testing facility and the Fusion RV is parked there. Dorton is in the RV and he tests out its features and he turns on the computer and he goes through its functions. Dorton presses a button and it activates homing missiles. Dorton said, "This really is a powerful mobile attack weapon. I wonder how Nuclear Fusion built all this? This is something really impressive. I want this deconstructed and reverse engineered. I want one of these for myself."

Nuclear Fusion is isolated in a testing enclosure and Dorton enters. Dorton said, "Nuclear Fusion. I am interested in you. You seem like something that shouldn't exist but yet you do." Nuclear said, "I don't have to answer to you." Dorton said, "I just want to know how you did it? How did you build a fully working battle RV?" Nuclear said, "I should be asking you the same thing of how you became the Prime Leader. It is no secret anymore that no one likes you." Dorton said, "That's enough. I am going to do what I wanted to do with you ever since I first heard of you." Dorton summons some armored guards and they collect Nuclear Fusion and they bring him to some kind of engineering lab. Nuclear Fusion is sent through an X-ray machine where it shows an image of the inside of his body and it shows where all his circuitry is and how his machinery is integrated with his organic components. One of the engineers said, "It seems he has machinery located here, here and here." Dorton said, "Good. Let's see how he does without it." They begin surgically removing Nuclear Fusion's robotic components and it causes him to scream and moan as if he were a pregnant woman giving birth. Dorton said, "I will leave you to your work. I expect a full report on this when I get back."

Dorton leaves that ward and he finds Thurmin in what looks like a kindergarten classroom. Dorton enters and he said, "Ah, Thurmin. You are just the one I want to see." Thurmin said, "You took everything from me. First, you took my parents and now, you took my new friends away from me." Dorton said, "They weren't really your friends. They were just using you. They know that you are just a young boy with a mind that can easily be crafted and manipulated. They want you to think I am something bad but I am not. If I really was bad, why would so many people vote for me?" Thurmin said, "You just found a way to distribute your own voters into all the districts which caused you to win way more of them than you would have." Dorton said, "You know I don't do that. People vote for me because they believe in me. They think I am trustworthy and the one that deserves to be running the Fusionverse. I am glad you brought me a little gift." Dorton reaches into one of Thurmin's pockets and he pulls out the small cylindrical component that the other Captain Fusion stole at the beginning." Dorton continues, "Let me show you the new museum."

Guards grab onto Thurmin and they guide him as he walks with Dorton to a museum section. There is an exhibit there were it shows people living in poverty and despair. Dorton said, "This Fusionverse was in disarray before I became its Prime Leader. The Elders didn't know how to govern the new Fusionites that entered the Fusionverse and it was becoming an oversized universe. The Fusionverse transitioned into a country with an elected government. Some of the earlier ones were incompetent and didn't know how to run the universe, but since I became the Prime Leader, this place has advanced for the better. Most of the unfortunate incidents that happened to you were ones that happened because you or your friends or parents were going against the Fusionverse. If you never fought against the Fusionverse, you would never have had these issues." Thurmin said, "Alexa says you don't know how to run this place." Dorton said, "What does Alexa know? She's a prime example of how the education system the past governments had have failed. You shouldn't base your life around what other people have brought you up to be. You should think for yourself and make the more rational decisions. My administration has done a lot more good than most people realized. We were able to give the funding to Lana Fusionana so she can launch her career as the most successful singer in the Fusionverse. Don't you just love her music?" Thurmin said, "No. I hate it." Dorton said, "You've been hanging out with those old freaks for too long. You will find out in time that you've been associating yourself with the wrong people. That is why I want to show you this." Dorton shows Thurmin to some large device that has a large component that goes over the eyes. Dorton said, "I want you to watch these contents and you will tell me what you think of them afterwards." Thurmin is strapped to a seat and all that is sent into his visual cortex is nothing but pro Fusionverse and pro Dorton propaganda. It also has footage of Thurmin's most traumatizing memories but is shows manipulated footage making it look like his parents were secretly evil all along. It also makes it seem like all the people he knew growing up that love Dorton were in the right while he was in the wrong. Captain Fusion is depicted as an evil mad scientist that brainwashes people into taking his side and that the naive and mindless, Thurmin is one of his many victims.

Dorton goes back to the section where they were working on Nuclear Fusion and he finds a table filled with robotic components. Nuclear Fusion has been stripped of most of his robotic weapons and he is left as a frail body that contains a car battery and some essential robotic parts. One of the engineers said, "We tried stripping him of his robotic capabilities but it seems as if his life depends on that one car battery. Dorton shrugs it off and he said, "Eh, we still got enough from him. Now we can use these and crack the mystery of Nuclear Fusion and what makes him such a powerful force. You can let him go now." Nuclear Fusion is released and he is thrown into a prison room with Alexa.

Alexa's eyes go big and she said, "What did they do to you?" Nuclear Fusion said, "It… it… it… it was the… worst." Nuclear Fusion's nearly lifeless body falls and Alexa picks him up. She kisses him on the forehead and said, "I will make sure Dorton doesn't get away with this. I have tons of information that will make the entire senate chamber go against him." Nuclear said, "The Fusionverse… is worse than the universe I came from. The Fusionverse is doomed." Alexa said, "Well, Thurmin is trapped here with us but Captain Fusion is still out there somewhere. I think he has my cellphone."

Chapter 11

Captain Fusion is wearing the new suit that Stride crafted and designed. He walks around in it and practices fighting in it. Captain Fusion said, “This feels just like my old suit, but a little bit bulkier.” Stride said, “It is heavily armored. I designed it after the armor the gold troops wear. You are now equally matched with them. It even comes with some secret wrist weapons.” Captain Fusion finds the new suit has hidden weapons in the wrists. Some targets are spawned and Captain Fusion blasts them with his new wrist launchers. Stride said, “Your enhanced running speed may be able to outrun most of the normal non-Fusionites in your universe but in the Fusionverse, you are equally matched. Those gold guards can run fast due to rocket boosters they have in their feet. This new suit of yours also has rocket boosters. I even managed to improve them from the original ones the gold troops had.” Captain Fusion jumps and he activates the rocket boosters and he dashes upwards into the air and he hovers over the lab. Captain Fusion said, “This is magnificent indeed.” He dashes forwards and zips round objects and he stops right at the wall and runs up it and jumps off and dashes away. Captain Fusion continues, “Where was this suit when I needed it the most?” Stride said, “Oh trust me. You need it now more than ever. Dorton is more powerful than you realize. He has access to resources that may be unimaginable to us. No one knows what Dorton is fully capable of. There is a good chance that his secret facility where his newest technologies are made and where his victims are interrogated is where he brought your friends to.” Captain Fusion said, “How would I find this place?” Stride said, “I embedded a tracking device into one of my feet. I may have been subdued and drugged by Dorton but he didn’t know I had this tracking device on me. I watched its coordinates afterwards and it showed exactly where I traveled. I think I know where his facility is. I am uploading the coordinates to the Fusion Saucer. I wish you the best of luck, Captain Fusion.”

Dorton goes back to the museum where he walks through halls of simulated war zones where Captain Fusion troops are attacking the innocent Fusionite civilians and Dorton rises up as a hero. Dorton finds Thurmin and detaches him from the ocular mind manipulation contraption. Thurmin’s eyes look dazed. Dorton said, “Well, Mr. Thurmin. Do you know the truth now? Do you know right from wrong?” Thurmin said, “I only know one thing. It is that you are the greatest thing in the Fusionverse and I was associating myself with the wrong people.” Dorton claps and said, “Bravo. I knew it would work on you. I want you to work for me now. We can stop Captain Fusion before he causes a bigger mess here in the Fusionverse.” One of Dorton’s men enters and he bows and said, “Prime Leader. There is a black UFO and it is inbound for this facility.” Dorton said, “A UFO?” They begin to hear sound and the roof of the facility is ripped off and destroyed from using a concentrated laser beam that is coming off the Fusion Saucer that is being controlled by Captain Fusion in his new suit. Dorton said, “He found me. Help me secure my weapon before he gets to it.” Dorton runs off and he finds the secret weapon and he connects the component back into it. He has it hauled into a truck. While this is happening, Captain Fusion is blasting away at all the defenses the facility has.

Captain Fusion spots Nuclear Fusion and Alexa in a holding cell and troops are trying to bring them to a new location. Captain Fusion opens the bottom of the saucer and he uses his new rocket boots to hover towards them. He engages in combat against the gold troops.

He punches one in the head breaking its outer casing and freeing the victim trapped in it. He does the same thing to more of them. Alexa said, “Thanks.” Captain Fusion said, “What happened to Nuclear?” Nuclear said, “Horror. Sheer…” Alexa said, “They did inhumane tests with him.” Captain Fusion said, “Come with me.”

Captain Fusion smashes down several doors and he frees prisoners that were captured by Dorton. He even finds a small factory where captured victims are being placed into gold armored suits with new weapons. Captain Fusion jumps in there and open fires and destroys all the equipment. He breaks down some more doors and he finds the other Captain Fusion from the beginning of the movie and he is sitting there tied to a chair. Alexa and Nuclear enter the section with Captain Fusion and he said, “Ah, I know this Fusion. This one is just like me but from a different universe where I never went into exile. I keep telling Thurmin that living in exile for two decades really does build someone into a great hero.” Captain Fusion goes up to the other Fusion and the Fusion said, “Cee bee cee bee. Theess bee cee bee.” Alexa said, “What’s wrong with him?” Captain Fusion looks over the Fusion and he sees a mark on his head that is circular. Captain Fusion said, “It looks like Dorton extracted something from this Fusion. We’ll take him with us.”

The Fusions enter the museum where they view Dorton’s political propaganda. Alexa said, “This is the worst. It is as if Dorton is trying to teach school kids that he is always in the right.” Captain Fusion said, “Politics have always pulled crap like this.” The Fusions come across, Thurmin. Thurmin has demonic red eyes and he darts them at Captain Fusion. Thurmin said, “You don’t realize how you robbed me of an opportunity to be the greatest hero in the Fusionverse.” Captain Fusion said, “This is Dorton’s propaganda. Dorton is not to be trusted.” Thurmin said, “You are just saying that because you don’t know the full truth. Dorton has done more good than bad. He also said he would pay me to take out the greatest threats to the Fusionverse.” Thurmin begins battling against Captain Fusion. Captain Fusion dashes with his new boots and he zips around the fray and Thurmin runs and barely catches up. He grabs onto one of Captain Fusion’s boots and he swings him around and sends him smashing into the wall.

Alexa jumps into the battle and she grabs onto Thurmin and she said, “You must remember who we are. We are your friends.” Thurmin flips over Alexa and he said, “You’re just a bunch of traitors. I never liked being the defiant type.” Captain Fusion gets up and he dashes at Thurmin and Thurmin dodges him. Captain Fusion dashes one way and then rapidly changes the other direction. He dashes and lands behind Thurmin and Thurmin runs for him and he jumps and suddenly disappears. Thurmin said, “Where did you go?” Thurmin runs and he ends up crashing into Captain Fusion’s knee. Thurmin’s head collides with the knee of Captain Fusion and he falls to the floor. Captain Fusion helps him up and he said, “Do you remember us now?” Thurmin looks dazed and he said, “I think I remember you now. I think Dorton did something to me.” Thurmin reunites with the Fusion Family and he sees the horrors of Nuclear Fusion and the Captain Fusion that adopted him. Thurmin said, “Dorton is worse than I thought.” Captain Fusion said, “He is. Something tells me there are some more secrets hiding in this place.”

Captain Fusion explores the facility with the Fusion family and they find a vault that is loaded with blueprints. They find blueprints for that secret weapon and these plans are more detailed than the ones they knew about before. Captain Fusion said, “It’s Dorton’s weapon.” Alexa scans the blueprints and she said, “Oh, god. This is brutal.” Thurmin said, “What is it?”

Alexa said, “It seems that Dorton has a new weapon that is going to generate brainwaves that will cause all the Fusionites of the Fusionverse to get severe cerebral hemorrhages.” Alexa collects all the plans. She continues, “We must tell the senate about this and get this on the news. The entire Fusionverse is in grave danger.” The heroes find the Fusion RV and Alexa places Thurmin’s Captain Fusion in it as well as Nuclear Fusion and she drives away from the facility. Captain Fusion gets into his saucer and escapes with them.

Chapter 12

The Fusion Family is at Stride’s lab where he looks over the damages that were done to Nuclear Fusion and Thurmin’s Captain Fusion. Stride said, “Dorton did something to them alright. I think I could fix Nuclear Fusion perfectly. I know these kinds of technologies. I think I can make him better than he was before. This other Captain Fusion on the other hand may be a bit more work. It is as if parts of his conscience were extracted from him. It may be fixable but this is going to be more work. In the meantime, I did build new suits for all of you. I didn’t just make one for Captain Fusion. This weapon you have the plans for is quite baffling.”

Alexa heads to the senate and the entrance is blocked off by gold armored guards. They stop Alexa and one of them says, “You are not authorized to enter these premises.” Alexa shows them her ID badge and she said, “I am Alexa Fusion. I am the leader of the opposition in this senate.” The guard said, “Dorton ordered for your banishment from the senate chamber.” Alexa said, “But I must enter. This is urgent.” The guard grabs onto her and guides her off the property. Alexa sees a bunch of senators from her affiliation crowded around and she said, “You all got kicked out too.” They all nod their heads, yes.

Alexa goes back to Stride’s lab and they have a TV on and they watch Dorton give a speech. Dorton said, “The opposition senators don’t care about their jobs the way I care about my job and my fellow senators care about theirs. As you can see, they all bailed out on us. The Fusionverse is at its best now as several of the threats against us have been eliminated thanks to the policies of my administration. Furthermore, we have invested more of our funds to build a better defensive system to ensure we do not face anymore severe threats again.” Alexa is watching this and she looks aggravated. She said, “That Dorton is nothing but a lying creep. He knows we have those plans and that’s why he doesn’t want me in the senate. He is making it seem like I just didn’t want to attend.” Stride said, “The only way we can beat this now is if we override the TV signal and show them the truth. We would have to go to the TV studio broadcasting this to do that.” Captain Fusion said, “We will do that. How well is Nuclear?” Nuclear is in one of the new suits and he looks stronger and more burly than ever. Stride said, “I think his upgrades are just about complete. I even found how to make his Nuclear physiology a power source. It can come in handy when you need a new power source and there isn’t one around.” Alexa and Thurmin also get suited up into the new suits. There is a brightly lit logo of the new CF logo with the bright gold letters and the round red upside down triangle. The Fusion Family runs away from the shining logo.

They arrive at the TV studio where they barge in and they all collaborate to take down any defenses the studio has. They tie up the TV operators and they get to the computers where the broadcast is being done. Stride is with them and he sets up the override so it is now showing the inside of the studio rather than the live feed of Dorton. All of the signals get overridden with the live footage from the studio they invaded. Alexa takes the screen and she said, “I am Alexa Fusion. What Dorton is telling all of you is inaccurate. The real reason I am not in the senate is because he denied me and my fellow colleagues access to the senate. I have documents and blueprints right here that confirm that Dorton does indeed have a plan to destroy all of the citizens of the Fusionverse.” Dorton is in the senate and he sees his signal has been compromised. Dorton said, “What’s going on here?” One of the tech people says, “It seems Alexa took over our feed.” Dorton said, “Find out where this is and get rid of her.”

Alexa shows the blueprints and continues, “This is a weapon that is going to kill all the people of the Fusionverse. This is going to give us severe cerebral hemorrhages which would kill the entire population of the Fusionverse.” Fusionites all over the Fusionverse are watching this and they look scared and frightened. Alexa also shows that Dorton signed the blueprints. Alexa said, “This is Dorton’s signature right here confirming that he did approve of these plans. He also did inhumane things to several of my friends.” She shows a photo of Nuclear Fusion after he was experimented on. All the people watching this look disgusted. Alexa said, “This is hideous but the truth must be known. He also manipulated this boy right here…” She brings Thurmin into the scene and continues, “She made him think his family was bad and that people that oppose Dorton are nothing but terrorists.” Thurmin said, “Dorton took my parents from me three years ago. I haven’t seen them since.” The power goes out to the studio. And Alexa said, “What happened?” Stride said, “It appears as if the power has gone out. I know how to fix this.” He takes the plug for the main computer system of the studio and he plugs it into one of the outlets on Nuclear Fusion. Nuclear Fusion is able to power the studio and they start broadcasting again. More content that goes against Dorton is displayed on the screen and Dorton said, “Why is it back on? We shut the power off.” The tech guy said, “It seems as if they found a new source of power.” Dorton said, “Damn!!! I will see my master about this.”

Dorton goes to that mysterious chamber again where he meets the black and gold star faced god. Dorton said, “Our secret is out. The people of the Fusionverse know about our plan.” The god said, “It doesn’t really matter anymore now. This weapon is mostly all completed. It will soon be ready for activation. Once it is activated, none of this will matter.”

People all over the Fusionverse riot in the streets. Gold armored troops are sent to fight off the rioters which results with some of them getting killed. The strongman comes out and starts dishing out some discipline to the protesters by smacking them leaving waves of them flowing into the gutters of the street. Dallas Fusion is in a news helicopter and he is providing coverage of the riots. He said, “Dallas Fusion here and there is mass hysteria in the streets of the main Fusionverse city. Ever since we all found out about Dorton’s intentions, everyone in the Fusionverse is in fear and hey, who wouldn’t be right now? I don’t want to be dead soon. No one does. Someone must save the Fusionverse from this dastardly evil plot.”

The Fusion Family is still in the TV studio and Alexa said, “Now we need to locate where Dorton’s weapon is.” Stride said, “The only way we can get information like that from him is to interrogate Dorton himself or someone that he is close with.” Nuclear Fusion uses a new cord on his body and he connects it to the computer system. He views several gigabytes of information that is flowing directly into his brain. Nuclear said, “Whoa. I can view all kinds of digital data records stored in this computer.” Alexa said, “Does any of it say where Dorton’s weapon is?” Nuclear said, “No. It does mention that Lana Fusionana is recording a music video in one of these studios.” Thurmin said, “We could get Lana to give us that information. I’m sure she knows where Dorton would keep something like that. She is close with him after all.”

Chapter 13

The Fusion Family is in the Fusion RV and Nuclear drives it through the dystopian streets of the Fusionverse. They find the recording studio and they enter. They end up in a dark party room where Lana is on stage and a band is there and it plays her newest song. There are also cameras recording the party room as if the footage would be used in one of her music videos. Lana spots the Fusion Family in the studio and she stops and points to them and yells, “It’s the Fusions.” Everyone turns their attention to them and they reveal themselves as thugs. The Fusion Family fights off the thugs and Captain Fusion runs up to Lana. He said, “Lana. You don’t know what Dorton has in mind. You will be killed too.” Lana said, “Dorton promised me immunity. That is an entitlement you don’t have.” Lana snaps her fingers and the strongman comes out.

The strongman puts up a fierce fight with the Fusions. He knocks back Captain Fusion and sends him plummeting into the wall leaving a large crack in it. Thurmin doesn’t even bother to fight him and Nuclear uses his upgrades Nuclear powers to send nuclear blasts at the strongman. He ends up getting pushed into the wall. The strongman resists but Nuclear Fusion is throwing everything at him. He then smacks the strongman and sends him smashing through the wall and he is left outside on the street. Nuclear and Alexa jump outside to continue their fight against the strongman leaving Captain Fusion and Thurmin inside the studio with Lana.

Captain Fusion grabs onto Lana and pins her to the wall. He said, “You will show us where Dorton’s weapon is.” Lana said, “You and what army? You are just as equally powered as I am.” Captain Fusion said, “Let’s see about that.” Captain Fusion squeezes her shoulders and she yelps in pain. Captain Fusion said, “We have upgraded armored suits which are stronger than what anyone without this armor would be.” Thurmin said, “Show us where he is and we will show you leniency. Dorton is lying to you. He always lies. He never stays true to his word. You’re just going to end up dead like all the other Fusions in the Fusionverse.” Lana said, “His weapon is in the main Capitol Building. It is heavily guarded. I can only get in because I have a passkey to do so. It only works on me and there is no way they will authorize you to…” Captain Fusion gives a tight grip on her and he said, “You will make us get in.”

Nuclear and Alexa continue their fight against the strongman in the streets. They end up getting themselves thrown around and smashed into buildings and things on the street. Stride Fusion drives the Fusion RV and he attempts to drive it into the strongman and he grabs onto the front of the RV and he attempts to hold it in place. Nuclear fires a blast at the strongman and he loses his grip on the RV and is left temporarily stunned on the street. Alexa said, “What are those?” Nuclear and Alexa spot a large swarm of RVs that look just like the Fusion RV but they have a different paint job. They begin arming their weapons and they start heading for the Fusion RV. Nuclear and Alexa pile into the RV and they drive away from Dorton’s RVs. Stride rapidly cuts corners while they attempt to lose the RVs but they end up getting boxed in by the RVs.

Lana is in her limo while it drives to the main capitol building. There are protesters everywhere and gold armored troops are blasting at them. The limo drives to the green and yellow electrified defensive barrier and it stops at the security clearance. Lana’s limo is scanned by a small sphere that sends several rays of red light throughout the limo. She stays still and lifeless while the limo is scanned. Lana begins to sweat and the scanner robot goes to the main security booth and a robot guard said, “Lana Fusionana, identified. You may proceed.” A small section of the electrified barrier is opened and the limo drives into the capitol grounds.

Lana’s driver sends the limo into an opening in the capitol building and guides it through dark tunnels. It parks at a spot and Lana said, “I got you in to the capitol. I did what you wanted. Now scram.” Two of the back seats are lifted open and Captain Fusion and Thurmin jump out of the seats. They have disguises so they don’t look much like themselves. Captain Fusion gets Lana in a headlock and he said, “You will show us where Dorton’s weapon is.” Lana said, “I never agreed to that. I just said I would get you in to the capitol building. I can yell right now and Dorton will know you are here.” Captain Fusion said, “He also would know that you let us in here and he will probably have you executed too.” Lana’s gives a grim and dark depressing look and she shows them where Dorton’s main office is.

Dorton’s main office is guarded by a green and yellow electrified barrier just like the one that guards the capitol building outside. Thurmin said, “How are we going to get through this?” Captain Fusion said, “This barrier must have an energy source of some kind. Maybe Stride knows something about this.” Captain Fusion goes to his Fusion Communicator Watch that Stride built and he calls Stride. Stride is in the Fusion RV with Nuclear and Alexa and they are stuck in the deadly trap with the other RVs. Stride’s communicator emits a notification sound and Captain Fusion begins speaking. “Stride. We are at Dorton’s office in the main capitol building where he has his main weapon. It is protected by an electrified energy barrier like the one he has outside. Do you know how we can shut this down?” Stride said, “Hmm… I think I know about that. Electricity is transferred by those large transformers that are protected by heavily armored metal shielding. It is also transmitted by large wires that are nearly indestructible. I would have to use one of my armor piercing kits to go to one of those and disable it manually. I only ever read about them. I guess I don’t have a choice. Protect me.”

Stride runs out of the RV and the evil RVs start locking their weapons onto him. Nuclear Fusion targets several of the RVs and he open fires on them and he fires missiles at them and it destroys their weapons. Nuclear Fusion launches a volley of weapon attacks at the RVs and he destroys some of them and some of the RVs start ramming into him. One of them rams him at the side and it cracks some of the windows and dents the side of it. Alexa said, “We’ll get smashed if we stay here.” Nuclear said, “I guess our only choice now is to ram out of here.” Nuclear uses the ramming feature of the RV and he sends it zipping where there is only the front of one of the RVs blocking the access to the rest of the streets. Nuclear hits the front of that RV, leaving the front of it destroyed. Nuclear keeps speeding down the street and he keeps sending more missiles and plasma blasts at the remaining RVs. Alexa said, “We all have our moments and I guess this is your finest.” Nuclear said, “Well, if we don’t do anything now, we will all be dead.”

Stride finds one of the energy towers and he climbs up to it. He uses a tool to cut a small hole in the armor and it reveals the electrified insides. He is about to grab another tool and the strongman is there. The strongman said, “Energy is reserved for Dorton himself.” He smacks Stride in the face and he almost falls off the narrow platform that would cause him to plummet to his death if he fell off. Stride goes to his communicator watch and he calls for Alexa and Nuclear. He yells, “Alexa! Nuclear! That strongman is here. I need your assistance.” Nuclear makes the Fusion RV zip for the tower Stride is at and more of Dorton’s RVs come for him. They gang up and they constantly ram into the Fusion RV. Fusion RV gets smashed and cracked to a point where the engine begins to produce smoke. Nuclear said, “This baby’s taken a beating.” Alexa said, “Is there a trick way out of here?” Nuclear said, “There is.”

The Fusion RV keeps speeding down one of the streets and the remaining Dorton RVs ram into it and they leave it badly destroyed. One of the RV drivers leaves their RV and they break down the door to the Fusion RV only to find it is empty. Nuclear and Alexa use their rocket boots to fly off and head for Stride.

Captain Fusion and Thurmin are at the electrified barrier that is keeping them from getting in to Dorton’s office. Two purple and gold armored troops spot the Fusions and they start firing blasts at them. Fusion and Thurmin jump out of the blasts and they fire more blasts from their wrists at the armored troops. The Fusions’ blasts don’t seem to be effective against these new troops. They start dashing for the Fusions leaving them to run into one of the office rooms where they find it looks very decadent and wood grained. The purple troops barge in and they barricade the door leaving the Fusions stranded in this office. Captain Fusion and Thurmin slowly back away. Thurmin said, “What do we do now?” Captain Fusion said, “Surely, they must have some sort of weakness.” The troops dash into Fusion and Thurmin and they both jump out of the way. Fusion tries fighting against the troops but they have far superior strength and durability compared to the Fusions. The troops smack down Captain Fusion and they bash him into the floor.

Stride is on the edge of the narrow round platform surrounding the electricity transformer. Strongman said, “I hope you wrote your last will and testament. Now’s the time you will be needing it.” Nuclear said, “You could be saying the same about yourself.” Nuclear and Alexa dash into him and Nuclear fires some blasts at the strongman. He tries to grab onto them as they dash around and orbit the strongman. While he’s distracted, Stride continues working on the transformer and he places something in it. Stride jumps off and uses his rocket boots to descend to the ground. Nuclear and Alexa dash away and the transformer explodes leaving the strongman flying and crashing into the mall. The electrified barrier into the capitol building is deactivated and Fusions from the street start running on the capitol grounds. Dorton’s capitol defense units fight off the Fusionites from the street and they prevent nearly all of them from entering the building.

Nuclear and Alexa go to the mall where they see it looks destroyed and the strongman lies in a pile of debris. He gets up and brushes himself off and he engages at Nuclear and Alexa. They block his attacks and they make several seemingly weak jabs at the strongman. Strong man grabs Alexa and Nuclear and he swings them around by their feet and he throws them into a wall and they crash into one of the many businesses in the mall and it happens to be the lab where the strongman was made at. Nuclear said, “What is this place?” Alexa said, “This must be one of those genetics labs that Dorton supposedly has. Why am I not surprised they are real?” The mad scientist that created the strongman earlier is there. He said, “Well hello, Nuclear. It is nice to meet you again. Long time no see.” Nuclear confronts the mad scientist and he said, “It couldn’t be. Could it?” Alexa said, “Is this the…” Nuclear said, “This is that mad scientist the city in my universe would pay to run inhumane experiments on me. He’s partially responsible for me becoming what I am.” Mad scientist said, “I guess you owe a lot to me. You can repay me by doing one thing… testing my new antiserums.” Nuclear said, “I would never do that.” Mad scientist said, “I don’t think you have a choice.” Alexa and Nuclear turn around and they see the strongman behind them. The strongman said, “You go bye bye.”

Nuclear experiences tons of pounds of rage and he erupts into an almost unrecognizable demon. He finds the antiserum machine and he grabs onto it and he aims it for the strongman. Alexa and Nuclear grab onto the strong man and they send him into the antiserum injector and it sends the serum through the strongman. The mad scientist tries fighting them off but Alexa slaps the mad scientist in the face and she knees him in the crotch. The strongman’s strength is diminishing and he becomes overly thin and dumb. Stride enters the lab and he said, “Nuclear, Alexa. I’m glad I found you. I think we might be needed at the capitol.” Nuclear, Alexa, and Stride jump into the Fusion Saucer and they fly off. They look down at the city that is filled with more RVs and armored troops that are fighting against the civilians. Stride said, “Get to your battle stations.” Nuclear and Alexa get to their turret controls and they use precise aiming software to aim at the troops and the RVs and it sends a thin beam at them that leaves their armor destroyed or damages their RV.

Chapter 14

Captain Fusion and Thurmin keep enduring a beat down from the new even more heavily armored troops. Captain Fusion gets smacked so much that he looks like he’s about to give up. Thurmin realizes what will happen and he starts to go into demonic rage mode. Thurmin jumps and he throws off his disguise cloak and he uses it to cover the heads of the armored troops and he keeps smacking and pounding them. He grabs furniture from the office and keeps smashing it on them. He even finds some electronics and he smashes those on them. Thurmin keeps using his max strength at them and their armor suits crack and break. It is then revealed that these new troops are Thurmin’s parents. Thurmin said, “Mom… Dad?” Thurmin’s parents say, “Thurmin?” They reunite together and the father said, “I’m glad to see you’re alright.” The mom said, “You look like you became the bold hero we raised you to be.” Thurmin said, “I sure have. I also had help from this guy.” He points to Captain Fusion. Thurmin's father said, "Could it be?" Thurmin's parents go up to Captain Fusion and the father said, "It's him alright." Thurmin said, "This is Captain Fusion. He's been teaching me new things about being a hero for the past few weeks." Thurmin's father said, "I heard of this Fusionite before. He is something special. He's supposedly linked to the reason why our kind exists and why this universe exists. No one knows for sure why but some of the ancient texts made by the Elders had illustrations of a Fusion that looks just like this one. You were in good hands and you will continue to be in good hands when you partner yourself with him." The Fusions break through the barricade and they see Dorton's office. They see the electric barrier is turned off. Captain Fusion said, "It looks like Stride was successful." Thurmin said, "Yeah. Let's take down Dorton and show him who's boss." Captain Fusion said, "The fate of our kind depends on it." Captain Fusion and Thurmin run into the office and they end up in a black abyss.

Dorton materializes in the abyss and he looks soulless. Captain Fusion points at him and said, "You've failed Dorton. We have your capitol surrounded. Your power is gone and we all know about your weapon. Your political career is over and that's the least of your concerns." Thurmin said, "Yeah. Wait till you'll be hearing it from my fists." Dorton said, "You have failed. The ultimate weapon is completed. You will all be dead soon. My master's goal has been accomplished." Captain Fusion and Thurmin said, "Your master?" They see a gold body with a black start painted on the face emerge from the abyss as a large nightmare inducing villain that has his sharp triangle eyes darted down on the Fusions. The god said, "You Fusions think you're the best in the Ultraverse, but that is a big lie. I'm the greatest thing in the Ultraverse." Thurmin said, "What are you supposed to be anyways?" The god said, "I am Star Diffusion. I am not a Fusionite. I am an Antifusion. I am made from the substances that are the exact opposite of the substances that made what you are." Diffusion points to Captain Fusion and he said, "I've been watching you since the beginning. I know your deal. You're the reason why I created the Fusionverse." Thurmin said, "You created the Fusionverse?" Captain Fusion said, "What does this have to do with me? How could I be responsible for creating this universe? I had no idea it existed until a few weeks ago."

Diffusion said, "I have existed since the beginning of known existence. I am the oldest known living thing. I was made from several antifusions that give me my powers and they make me the almighty god that I am. I used to terrorize several universes and make them bow to me where I became their new ruler. I would then suck all life out of those universes. It is how I live. That all changed when they used a superhero that had "Fusion" in his name go against me. The Fusion superhero defeated me and threw me out of that universe. I wonder why I lost so badly to him and then I found out about his DNA. He was made with Fusion Augment serum which is immune to my godly powers. Eternities went by and I continued to subjugate other universes and I never ran into any issues but then I came across a universe that scared me. It is the universe that that Captain Fusion came from." He points to Captain Fusion. Diffusion continues, "It is a tremendous universe. It would grant me great powers and abilities if I could take it over. I then found out that a superhero named Captain Fusion was recently created in that universe. After the beat down I got from that other Fusion, I figured I would study this Fusion and his universe. I found that this Fusion was far more cunning than the other Fusion and there was no way I could possible take over this universe. Captain Fusion becoming the hero he is seemed to have made a myriad effect on millions of other universes as more Fusion heroes were being created. I soon was left without any universes to go after. My power is diminishing and I have nowhere to go to get more power. I then got the idea to use the little bits of power I had left to create this universe. This universe was created to be a magnet for all the different Fusions of the universes of the Ultraverse. I watched as millions of Fusions were brought here. I even fabricated stories of this universe that the Fusion Elders were to govern it that were selected by a god. They didn't know that I was secretly the one that devised all that. I waited more years for all the known Fusions to enter this universe. The one Fusion I wanted the most, was you. You are the one that gave me the inspiration to build this universe. Once I found out you were here, I knew it would be time to execute my ultimate plan. I mostly used Dorton as a way to build my weapon and to maintain political rule over the Fusionverse. I even used some governing ideas that I created that were stolen from me. Broken electoral systems such as First-Past-The-Post was one of my greatest ideas that somehow got stolen from me and ended up in your universe as well as several others. This Dorton you see here was once a real Fusion. He chose to form a bond with me which made him my robot. He gave up what he was so he can help me build my plan and give me a Fusionite I could control."

More lights come on and Diffusion's full weapon is exposed. It is filled with several switches and cylinders that have all kinds of energy substances flowing through them. Captain Fusion said, "If you activate this thing, you are committing mass genocide. The Fusions were designed to protect and defend the universes they came from. If you get rid of them, there wouldn't be any Fusions left and you would be able to invade and suck the life out of any universe you would want." Diffusion said, "That's exactly my plan." Captain Fusion said, "If you keep invading universes, you will eventually run out of them and you will run out of power and you will cease to exist. Fusions are smart and cunning. We could find a way to build you an energy source so you can live forever. You will never have to fear running out of energy again." Diffusion said, "That's a very good story. I should consider that but there is only one thing, that's not my style." Diffusion activates the weapon and sparks fly around it and it sends psionic brainwaves all over the Fusionverse and it causes every Fusionite to get severe brain pain to a point where they cannot function and they fall and squirm around in pain. Captain Fusion, Thurmin, and Dorton fall to the floor in pain. All the Fusion's outside (including the ones Dorton encased in armor for his plot) are lying on the ground in pain. Stride loses control of the saucer and he crashes it into a building as his mind is in severe anguish and Nuclear and Alexa are in pain too.

Chapter 15

Thurmin yells and screeches as his eyes are closed and he can feel his brain begin to fracture. Captain Fusion is in intense pain too and one of his eyes is slightly cracked open and he targets the weapon. Captain Fusion uses his strength and he slowly fights against the pain. He begins slowly creeping towards the weapon. Diffusion is overjoyed by all the suffering that he overlooks Captain Fusion trying to fight against the pain. Captain Fusion gets to the switches and controls of the weapon and he attempts to grip onto them and he slowly inverts the settings on the weapon. He gets the switches to a point where the weapon stops emitting the hazardous brainwaves and all the Fusionites are suddenly free of pain. Diffusion sees that the pain has stopped and he said, "What the." He sees Captain Fusion at the controls of his weapon and he inverts the circuits and switches to the opposite of what they were set to. The machine begins emitting hazardous brainwaves that would attack the opposite of a Fusionite or an antifusion. Diffusion grabs onto his head as his brain begins to bubble in pain. He screeches in pain. Thurmin gets up and he gets flashbacks of his parents being taken away from him and all the hardships he faced because of Diffusion's evil plot. Thurmin said, "You took everything from me. You're the reason why I suffered in orphanages. You're the reason why I have constantly been on the run for the last three years. You almost killed everyone I ever cared about. You're going to dance with the devil in the pale moonlight." Thurmin jumps and he smacks Diffusion in the face and he kicks him in the crotch and he bashes him around and his smacks his head so hard that it becomes deformed. Thurmin picks up Diffusion and he throws him down a deep long shaft that is strangely there in Dorton's office. Diffusion falls in pain and his body smacks down on the surface far below and his body gets horribly deformed and he dies.

Captain Fusion and Thurmin pound their fists in victory. Thurmin said, "We won." Thurmin spots Dorton standing there looking grim and lifeless and Thurmin said, "What's up with him?" Dorton falls to the floor dead and Captain Fusion and Thurmin stand over Dorton's corpse. Captain Fusion said, "He's dead. Diffusion did say that they had a bond. I guess their minds were one in the same. Now that Diffusion is dead, so is Dorton."

The Fusionites watch Captain Fusion and Thurmin leave the capitol building and they praise the Fusion Family. Dallas Fusion runs up to them with the microphone and he said, "Tell me, Captain Fusion. What was it like taking down Dorton's plan?" Captain Fusion said, "It was the worst. Dorton wasn't even the mastermind. It was really an evil god." Thurmin jumps in and said, "We kicked the evil god's butt. I also got reunited with my parents." Dallas said, "There you have it. The Fusionverse is saved thanks to this family of Fusionites that took a stand against Dorton."

Nuclear, Alexa, and Stride reunite with the other two Fusions. Alexa said, "You did it. You got rid of Dorton. Now we can work to rebuild democracy in the Fusionverse. This universe's system of government really needs a massive overhaul. I also have Nuclear over here to give me some ideas." Nuclear and Alexa start kissing each other. Thurmin runs to his parents and he starts touching base with them. Stride said, "Well. It looks like we are saved. All we got to do now is rebuild this society and infrastructure."

Chapter 16

The Fusionites work to rebuild the city and they have celebrations and ceremonies honoring the Fusion Family. Meetings are held with the people to discuss how the Fusionverse will be governed and new acts are signed into place to prevent someone like Dorton from taking over again. Stride acquires Dorton's vast collection of technologies and he manages to find the one that was used to suck the conscience out of the Captain Fusion that adopted Thurmin and he uses the machine to return that Captain Fusion to normal. The Fusion RV is restored and is upgraded. Nuclear and Alexa become a couple while they work to rebuild the Fusionverse.

Captain Fusion has one last meeting with the Fusion Family. Captain Fusion said, “It’s been an honor serving with all of you. We truly are a remarkable team.” Thurmin said, “Our chemistry is perfect.” Captain Fusion said, “This Fusionverse is great, but I have a life in the universe where I came from. Stride found a portal that leads to that universe. I will be returning to my universe.”

The Fusion Family gathers around the portal which is out in the desert at sunset. Captain Fusion gives his goodbyes to all the family including, Thurmin. Captain Fusion said, “I will return at some point. We are a family. Families reunite. So long everyone.” Captain Fusion walks into the portal and is returned to his universe.

Thurmin lives with his parents again and his lifestyle improves as they continue to teach him in the new school they opened for the Fusionite kids. Nuclear and Alexa get married. Elections are held with the new government system in the Fusionverse and they result in Nuclear Fusion becoming the new Prime Leader of the Fusionverse. Stride is given a title of, “Official Inventor and Innovator of the Fusionverse.” Lana Fusionana’s career is destroyed and the only job she gets is being a bum that lies on the streets. The mad scientist that created Nuclear is imprisoned. Thurmin would later grow into becoming a more powerful Captain Fusion than any other one before him would. Captain Fusion was given a device to activate a portal to the Fusionverse so he can visit again when he chooses. He is also given a live feed on his computer so he constantly follows what is going on in the Fusionverse.
